12th St. overpass plan under study

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
Construction of a highway overpass that would connect 12th Street in Madison with the Great River Road (FA Route 151) when it is extended from Granite City to Venice was under study today following a meeting here of Illinois district highway engineers with area city and civic officials.
The meeting, arranged by the Highway, Traffic and Transportation Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, also resulted in a memorandum of understanding under which highway officials committed construction of the Chicago Avenue grade separation for the River Road extension during the current fiscal year, and actual extension of the River Road pavement to Venice during the latter half of 1975.
Robert Kronst, chief district engineer of the Illinois Highway Department, agreed that design planning for the Route 151 extension between Granite City and Venice will include provisions for a grade-level connection of the new highway with a roadway linking the highway with Madison.
Kronst said the overpass and connecting roadway from Madison to Route 151 would be a two-lane structure that would cost "in the neighborhood of $2 million." Financing arrangements have not yet been considered but it is likely the project would be a joint city-state undertaking, officials said.
The need of an outlet to the new highway from Madison was stressed as a means of routing heavy truck traffic to Route 151, thus diverting it from more congested areas in Granite City, Madison and Venice, according to Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison.
"A connection with Route 151 would permit routing of heavy truck traffic from such places as Fox Industries, Waggoner Trucking, Madison Metal Works and Granite City Steel directly to Route 151 without traveling through more heavily traveled streets in Granite City, Madison and Venice," Sasyk said.

Community College attachment legal

The Granite City School District today is legally attached to the Belleville Area (College) (BAC), culminating efforts by interested citizens and civic groups spanning a period of several years.
Dr. Larry Auten of the Illinois Community College Board (ICCB) in Springfield, said this morning that no petitions were filed prior to the July 31 referendum in Granite City on the junior college issue.
Dr. George E. Wilkins Jr., chairman of the Junior College Study Committee of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, said today, "I think it is wonderful news. I am tickled to death. All the plans are made and now that everything is in the clear we can really get going."
Dr. Wilkins succeeded Attorney Leo H. Konzen as chairman of the Chamber's

Record steel earnings

National Steel Corp. earned $4,105,324, or $2.27 per share, in the second 1974 quarter, chairman George A. Stinson reported this week. For both sales and earnings, it was an all-time record quarter.
"The long-needed improvement in profitability reflected by these earnings is a first step toward meeting the capital costs of steel expansion so badly needed by the economy," Stinson said.
"In anticipation of this improvement, we have, thus far in 1974, committed six expansion projects toward this goal. These are part of our program to add more than one million tons to our steelmaking capacity by the end of 1976."
National Steel owns and operates Granite City Steel.
"Further, we are moving closer to finalizing plans for facilities to produce an additional two million tons of steel by the later years in this decade," Stinson said.
"With 75 per cent state or federal funding sought, the increase in the cost of the project will raise the local share from the $3 million estimate in 1970 to about $14 million."

Sewer inspection

A report with the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration by the end of August, the Mayor said.
Also accompanying the inspection tour were Prof. Robert Koepke, assistant professor of geology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville who is spearheading a survey as to what the city can do to improve its sewer system, and Lionel Portell, superintendent of streets.

Mitchell water rates increase

Water bills to residents of the Mitchell area served by the Mitchell Public Water District will increase Aug. 23 as the result of an increase in the price of water sold wholesale to the district.
The East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. has raised the price of water to the Mitchell district. Recently, the Illinois Commerce Commission approved an increase in water rates for the East St. Louis water firm.
The minimum water rate to Mitchell Public Water District customers is to increase 10 per cent, from $3.50 to $3.85, officials disclosed.

SEWER BREAK REPAIR in the 3200 block of Killarney Drive is inspected by representatives of the Federal Disaster Assistance Administration in response to a claim by Granite City that it is entitled to more disaster aid because of the early 1973 flooding. Clockwise, from left, James Kanipe, engineer of Bovay Engineers, Inc.; Street Superintendent Lionel Portell, Mayor Paul Schuler, Bland P. Carter, also of the Bovay firm, and Robert Koepke, assistant professor of geology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The Bovay firm was retained by the federal agency to make inspections here and in other areas communities.

RIVER ROAD PLANNING by state highway, city and civic officials will include a study for construction of an overpass to connect 12th Street in Madison with the new highway when it is extended next year from Granite City to Venice. Considering steps for the River Road (FA Route 151) extension in a meeting here were, from left around the table: Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison, William Linton of the Traffic Department of Granite City Steel, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler, State Sen. Sam Vadalabene, Richard Kerch, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Highway, Traffic and Transportation Committee; Mayor William "Mike" Ebersoldt of Venice, Robert Kronst, district highway engineer; John Kusior, state engineer of roads and streets; Chester L. Baker, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

High priority grant for township sewer project

Prospects for funding, this fiscal year for a proposed Four-Township Sewer to serve Chouteau, Nameoki, Venice and Granite City townships was disclosed Monday at a meeting of the Madison County Four Township Sewer Planning Committee.
At the same time, it was estimated that the cost of the project will raise the local share from the $3 million estimate in 1970 to about $14 million.
News of possible funding during this fiscal year, which ends June 31, 1975, was disclosed by Edward Juneau, engineer with the Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab engineering firm of Granite City, planner of the sewer project.
Juneau said at a recent meeting in Springfield, he was told that the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, either with state or federal funds, plans to fund six regional sewer programs this fiscal year, including the Four-Township Sewer plan.
The estimate in the rise of the cost for the project came from State Rep. Horace Calvo (D-Granite City), a member of the sewer planning committee. Calvo said the figure may be too high, but that the committee should plan to finance a top figure, rather than run short of funds.
Walter "Dick" Sparks, chairman of the committee and supervisor of Chouteau Township, agreed, saying that if it becomes necessary to sell bonds for the program, the committee would be better off to sell $4 million worth of bonds, in case the cost ran that high. Sparks discussed the possibility of borrowing the local townships' share of the money through a Federal Housing Administration loan. He said he has contacted the FHA and added that papers necessary to apply for such a loan were to be mailed to the committee Tuesday.
Sparks emphasized the need to begin the program as soon as possible, saying, "The quicker we can get started, the lower the price is going to be and the lower our sewer rates will be."
He said the committee discussed tentative residential rates, but said he did not feel he should disclose those figures at this time.
"Our bills will be higher than Granite City's, because we are going to have to pay for the sewers and we also are going to have to pay Granite City to provide sewage treatment," he said.
"We feel the estimates of the rates we are disclosing, based upon borrowing a $4 million local share, will be well within the reach of everyone," Sparks commented.

Madison principals named

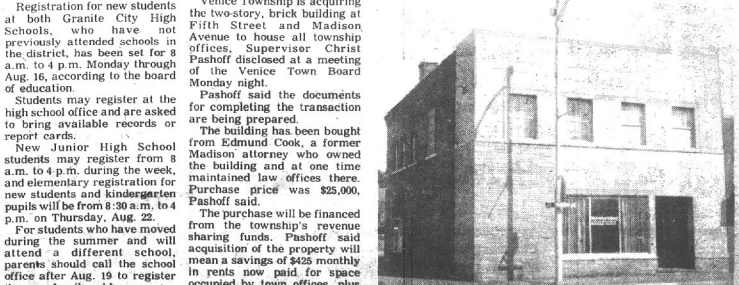

Norman Richard Corbin, St. Louis, has been named principal of Madison High School, said Robert L. "Bob" Barnhart, 1713 Fourth St., Madison, will become the new principal of Louis Baer elementary school. Barnhart will replace Kenneth Williams who retired, and Corbin replaces Richard Brown who is being reassigned.
The announcement of the new administrators was made today on behalf of the Madison Board of Education by John Patchett, superintendent of schools.
Barnhart has been a teacher and elementary counselor in the Madison school system since 1956. His wife Rita is a teacher at Louis Baer. They have two children, Victor, 16, and Christine, 14.
Barnhart holds a master's degree in administration and

Reviews traffic projects

Monroe Brewer, city engineer of Granite City, reviewed progress and lack of progress in work on several street and traffic improvements presently under way at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Granite City Rotary Club at the YMCA.

Brewer said that progress on Madison Avenue projects at 4th intersections is about 40 per cent complete and should be about 75 per cent complete by the end of August. He said the remaining 25 per cent of the work would involve installation of traffic signals which generally takes considerable time.

He said there has been "some criticism" regarding no-parking regulations on both sides of Madison Avenue from 19th Street to 24th Street. Left and right turn lanes had to be established, he explained, to comply with the federal government safety regulations.

Bids for improvements and lights at the Johnson and Fehling roads intersection with Nantooki Road will be opened Sept. 17 and work should start by Oct. 15 he said. Weather permitting, the signals may be in operation by next spring.

Brewer noted that this is state of Illinois project to revamp the islands and modernization of the lights. A delay is being caused as state officials are not sure the most arm assemblies of the traffic lights will be adequate.

In June 1976, an overpass should be under construction over the railroad tracks at one of five locations currently being studied, Brewer said. The locations under consideration are, Niedringhaus avenue, 19th, 20th, 22nd, and 25th streets.

Federal funding will pay between 70 and 90 per cent of the cost to bring present regulatory traffic signs up to current standards and replace many of the outdated signs. A 100 per cent grant has been approved for striping the streets, he added.

A special guest of the club Tuesday was Elmer O. Hill who was executive director of the YMCA here from 1932 until 1937 and was a past secretary of the Rotary club.

Mayor Leon Turner, district public relations officer for the Salvation Army in southern Illinois, will be the guest speaker at the next meeting.

Mrs. Claudson in recital at SIUE

Katherine Solomon Claudson of Edwardsville, graduate student in music at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will be presented in recital at 8:15 p.m. Friday in Lovejoy Library auditorium. The public is invited, admission free.

A soprano, Mrs. Claudson will be accompanied by SIUE staff pianist John Gross. She will sing arias from Handel's Judas Maccabaeus and Bach's The Passion According to St. Matthew during the first portion of her recital. She will also sing "Q. komme, holde Sommer nacht," "Serenade," "Therese" and "True Love by Brahms; Liedersfolge, Opus 97, by Yrjo Kilpinen, and will conclude her performance with four numbers by Arnold Bax.

Daughter of Russell Solomon, a vice-president of Granite City Steel, and Mrs. Solomon of Edwardsville, Mrs. Claudson teaches music at McHenry-Dewey Junior High School in Troy and also is choral director at Triad High School in St. Jacob. Her husband is William Claudson, professor of music at SIUE.

School film festival nearing up

SPRINGFIELD — The Cines Film Festival had its last take heed: It may have a rival.

Come this fall, the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction is having a film festival of its own. And although it won't have an X-rated bill of fare, it promises to be unique.

"Our office is aware that many excellent films are being produced by Illinois students," explained Harry Crane of the division of pupil and professional services. "These films is a way to encourage and acknowledge this activity."

The OSPPI affair is open to students only in four categories and to the general public, including students. In two. Of the four student categories, three are restricted to elementary and high school students and one is restricted to university students.

College

College planners after exhaustive studies of all possible courses of action.

At its June 21 meeting the Illinois Community College Board reaffirmed its earlier decision assigning the Granite City Unit School District to BAC.

A small group of dissenters to BAC affiliation, who sought annexation to the Lewis and Clark Community College system, are expected to appear at a hearing May 9 and indicated possible action in filing a petition prior to July 31 to force a referendum in Granite City.

All indications showed that annexation to BAC would be approved by voters and that such a referendum would serve only as a delaying tactic, causing added costs to the taxpayers and a severe financial squeeze on Granite City school services as the district must meet tuition costs which in college affiliation "limbo," BAC proponents explained.

Dr. Auten said that 50 petitions for junior college annexations in 49 districts throughout Illinois were filed with the ICCB prior to Wednesday deadline. All sought annexation to districts located in the northern section of the state with the exception of Vandallia and Lawrenceville.

A petition seeking to create a new junior college district in Cook County also was filed, but was denied by the ICCB under a procedural dispute and presently is awaiting court action. Dr. Auten said.

"We are very pleased that you can proceed with your junior college program without further delay," the ICCB spokesman said.

The Belleville college also will begin serving the Venice, Madison and Collinsville school systems today. Plans already have been developed to establish classes in Granite City and the three other school districts starting in September.

ZONING HEARING

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct an on-site public hearing at 9:30 a.m. Friday at 324 Yale Ave., in State Park Place in Nameoki Township, on a request by Grace Maza for a special use permit to place a 12 by 65 foot mobile home at that site, an R-4 single family residential district.

Command center keeps police in constant touch

By A. LEE ASCHOFF

SPRINGFIELD — When Gov. Daniel Walker pondered the question of a call-up of the National Guard recently during the independent trucker strike, he needed the most accurate, up-to-date information available.

Walker needed to know where possible trouble spots might be and major routes used by interstate truckers. He needed to know where there had been incidents of violence, non-violent protests by truckers and where trucks were parked or bottlenecked throughout the state.

He also needed to know where major truck stops were and where troopers were stationed as well as the number of men available for duty at any hour.

To get this information he called the Illinois State Police Command Center, the nerve center for 1,700 state police around the state.

The center, tucked away in a corner of the fourth floor of the Army Building in the Capitol complex, looks much like any other room except for the radio and teletype equipment housed in one corner.

During the truck strike, Hinds said, Walker checked with the command center six or eight times daily for the latest information.

"But we receive information on anything unusual that happens in the state," Hinds said.

Hinds said the center collects information on road conditions, tornadoes and severe storms, flooding, large-scale accidents like train or airplane wrecks and civil disturbances.

Command center personnel work closely with other agencies, according to Sgt. Fred Pfeiffer of Mechanicsburg. Currently, National Guard activities are planned concurrently with state police actions.

In the event of a tornado, serious storm, flood or other natural disaster, state police contact and coordinate their activities with local law enforcement officers as well as civil defense officials.

If there is a train wreck or an airplane crash, command center personnel may contact the Interstate Commerce Commission or the Federal Aviation Authority.

If hazardous materials are spilled in a wreck, Environmental Protection Agency representatives are notified.

The center came into existence about four years ago and was useful, Hinds said, in several action after large incidents on college campuses.

The center is responsible for collecting and distributing weather and road conditions throughout the state and handles prerecorded weather reports for eight state police districts. These reports are updated four times daily when necessary.

Information concerning traffic accidents, criminal arrests and other items is sent to the center from the 16 districts and five sub-post districts.

This information is summarized and sent to Walker and State Police Supt. Dwight E. Pitman each day.

The mainstay of the center is the Illinois is broken into three areas with a supervisor in each area. These three supervisors work in Springfield Monday and Friday and travel in their separate areas Tuesday through Thursday.

More efficient aid for senior citizens

By MARY LOU MANNING

SPRINGFIELD — The needs of Illinois' senior citizens are being coordinated through a network of recently designated area agencies on aging.

These 13 agencies, scattered throughout the state, have the responsibility of developing and administering programs for the aging. Funds under the federal Older Americans Act are channeled through them via the Department on Aging.

"They research existing services in specified geographical areas, develop new programs where needed, and weld them all into a network of services," said a staff member of the department.

"Every designated agency had to meet strict requirements before becoming an official area agency," explained Ed Hopper, assistant chief of the department's division of field services.

Federal law requires each applying agency to submit an area plan.

"This plan was uniform in format but had to be representative of the area the agency serves," he said.

Included in the plan was the agency's intention as to how it would effect, most economically, the widespread services needed with the money available. The needs of the area's

CYCLIST HURT

Pat Grogan, 39, Edwardsville, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:10 p.m. Wednesday following a motorcycle accident on Route 111 near Engineer Road, Mitchell. He suffered abrasions to the right side of his chest, back, neck, both forearms and a two-inch cut to the back of his right hand, after losing control of his cycle when it struck an object on the highway.

"Once the agency plans were approved, the available money to purchase the needed services was released to purchase the needed services," stated Hopper. "Other than providing information and referrals, these agencies don't deal in direct services."

The agencies were already in existence before designated official bodies. They are private agencies, except Chicago's Mayor's Office for Senior Citizens, comprised of representatives of each county they serve.

The official designation was made on review of each plan by a committee of the Council on Aging, the governing body for the department.

H. V. Whaley dies; was 62

Wilburn V. Whaley, 62, of 437 West Washington St., Collinsville, an employee of a local firm, died at 8:05 p.m. yesterday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Belleville.

Mr. Whaley, a lifelong resident of Collinsville, was employed for the past 27 years as a solder-caster with N. L. Industries, Metal Division, Hoyt Plant of Granite City.

He was a member of Local Union 6496 and of the First Assembly of God Church in Collinsville.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Allene Whaley; one son, Virgil Lee Whaley of Richmond, Ind.; one daughter, Mrs. Jack (Helen) Borth of St. Louis; a sister, Mrs. Arthur (Irene) Beaver of Overland, Mo.; a brother, Orville O. Whaley of Collinsville; his mother, Mrs. Mae L. Whaley of Collinsville, and five grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Ask Your Preacher

ANSWER: Plenary means full, complete, absolute. The word verbal means word for word; by mouth, in person.

Read II Tim. 3:16-17; II Peter 1:20-21; Therefore, the Bible is word by word inspired.

New gadget helps blind by making money "talk"

By FRANK MACOMBER

Most Americans must know that space technology of the last 15 years has helped to improve our lives. The space agency has been beating the drum about beneficial space-related spin-offs for some years.

But now and then along comes another spin-off to prove the agency's point — that the space program has compressed into roughly a decade the normal technological advances of 20 to 30 years.

This time it's the paper money identifier for the blind. Developed from space technology, the device enables a blind person to identify denominations of paper money by their "sound signature."

Until now, no reliable paper money identifier for the blind has been available.

To determine its denomination, a bill is passed under a light on the machine's insensitive device. A photoresistor measures changes in the bill's light patterns. An oscillator converts the signals into sounds similar to telephone "beeping" tones. Each denomination gives off its own easily identified sound.

The "talking money" concept was developed by NASA's Biomedical Applications Team at the Southwest Research Institute, San Antonio, Tex. It stems from technology first reported in 1959 by the space agency for the semi-automatic inspection of microfilm records.

Tests of the money identifier were conducted successfully by Arkansas Enterprises for the Blind in Little Rock. After three hours of practice, blind subjects easily could distinguish the sound patterns of different denominations.

The device is produced by Marchak Engineering and Manufacturing Co., Austin, Tex. It is available now to the space agency for the blind and for individuals as well.

Another significant new spin-off, says NASA, is the rechargeable heart pacemaker. This highly advanced device uses space-developed battery and electronic circuitry.

Designed and built by the Applied Physics Laboratory of Johns Hopkins University, it not only is smaller than earlier pacemakers but its nickel-cadmium batteries can be recharged by the patient at home, using an external power source.

This eliminates the need for replacement surgery every two years, an especially attractive feature for infants and the elderly.

The pacemaker is implanted under the skin in the upper left or right portion of the chest. Because it is about a third the volume and half the weight and thickness of earlier pacemakers, it virtually is hidden in the patient's body, encased in a sealed metal enclosure which keeps out body fluids.

So far the new pacemaker has been implanted in more than 100 patients, with encouraging results. Its cost is competitive with conventional pacemakers. Doctors estimate that the device, developed from the new device will reach $100 million a year, mostly because it eliminates pacemaker surgery.

Pacemaker Systems, Inc., Sylmar, Calif., is marketing the device.

National Steel

case. It is vital that profitability continue to improve to the levels of the middle 70's in order to provide for the job expenditures we face in trying out these programs," Nixon added.

For the second 1974 quarter, the second 1974 quarter added $661,060,750. Profits were 2,203,300 net; down slightly from the all-time quarterly record shipments of the first 1974 quarter.

The first six months of 1974, earnings totaled $1,089,039, or $3.61 per share, against $1,249,982,956, both per levels. Six months' earnings totaled 4,600,102 net, slightly below those for the comparable period of 1973.

"Prospects in the markets we serve continue strong through the remainder of the year," Stinson said. "We anticipate high levels for production and shipments through 1974."

Some problems which faced National Steel and the steel industry generally have shown considerable improvements in the past few months," Stinson added. "Since decontrol on May 1, we have been able to price out projects more realistically in terms of the uncontrolled costs of all raw materials including scrap, coal, tin and zinc."

Importantly, also, the striking success of the experimental negotiating agreement between major steel producers and the United Steelworkers of America has improved one for our workers, our customers and our owners."

"Our principal problem is coal supply. Stocks of coking coal are low and must be replaced. Our principal continuing problem is the cost of steel, which is critical to us, remains unchanged."

"On balance," Stinson said, "our situation is distinctly improved. Despite the real difficulties of the present, we look at our future with more optimism than has been possible in the past few years."

Investment credit included in second quarter, 1974, results totaled $1,000,000, and for the first half, $2,000,000.

Malzynski, who is on probation from earlier conviction for the burglary of two doctors' offices in Granite City, was arrested at 12:30 a.m. Tuesday in the 400 block of Maryland Road.

A man was chasing him down the street, when he was arrested. The man alleged he saw a man tampering with his parked auto.

The deputy apprehended Malzynski and alleged he found a hypodermic needle and syringe. Malzynski was taken to the county jail, charged with carrying a dangerous weapon, resisting arrest, theft and unlawful possession of narcotic paraphernalia.

He was placed in the jail cell about 2:45 a.m. and was found hanging in the cell during a routine inspection round at 3:05 a.m. Tuesday.

Find man hanging in jail

Alex Malzynski, 20, of 2153 Robert St., is in serious condition at Wood River Township Hospital after Madison County sheriff's deputies found him hanging by his neck from a towel in his cell at the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 3:05 a.m. Tuesday.

Jailers and deputies cut him down and utilized artificial and mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to restore his breathing. He was taken under guard to the intensive care unit of the Wood River Hospital.

Malzynski, who is on probation from earlier conviction for the burglary of two doctors' offices in Granite City, was arrested at 12:30 a.m. Tuesday in the 400 block of Maryland Road.

A man was chasing him down the street, when he was arrested. The man alleged he saw a man tampering with his parked auto.

The deputy apprehended Malzynski and alleged he found a hypodermic needle and syringe. Malzynski was taken to the county jail, charged with carrying a dangerous weapon, resisting arrest, theft and unlawful possession of narcotic paraphernalia.

He was placed in the jail cell about 2:45 a.m. and was found hanging in the cell during a routine inspection round at 3:05 a.m. Tuesday.

No strike possible at GC steel

"No strike at Granite City Steel is possible for three years in any way, shape or form," Clyde "Bud" Boyd, representative of United Steelworkers of America, commented today after the midnight deadline for lockout or strike passed without incident.

Boyd said that while there are some unresolved local issues at Granite City Steel, the issues now will have to be resolved without resorting to a strike.

He said no lockout or strike was expected after a July 15 deadline for notification of a proposed work stoppage passed without either side informing the other that it intended to interrupt work.

Harold Skeen dies at 65

Harold Skeen, 65, of 109 Longview St., Belleville, a former 7-Up Bottling Co. plant manager in Madison, died at 9:20 a.m. today at Belleville Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Skeen, a member of a Belleville Methodist Church, was born in Granite City and served as plant manager of the bottling company in Madison for 40 years until moving to Belleville six years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Zelma Skeen; a daughter, Mrs. Leonard (Doris) Anderson of Collinsville; one son, Mrs. Ralph (Mildred) Rushing of Granite City; one brother, Roland Skeen of Pennsylvania; and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are pending at a Belleville funeral home.

How do you treat poison ivy?

By IRWIN J. POLK, M.D.

If there any good way to keep from getting poison ivy?

That disease, caused by coming in contact with the leaves of a plant, causes much discomfort and some serious illness in the warm weather each year. Every year more than a million people develop the painful after effects of contact with these poisonous weeds. So poison ivy is a sickness of some importance.

There are a group of plants which cause the problem. Poison ivy is a vine which has a special, easy-to-recognize arrangement of leaves in clusters of three. It is a low-growing shrub with leaves that resemble oak-leaves and are again in the typical three-leaf clusters. Poison sumac is a coarse, woody shrub which is often found in wet, swampy ground. Each of these plants causes its rash in the same manner. Each makes a chemical substance which is harmful to the skin.

Poison ivy makes an oily chemical which is present in the sap of the plant. So the chemical is found in the leaves, roots, stems, flowers and even the pollen of the plant. The active part is a chemical called PDCA, short for penta-deca-catechol amine. When this material comes in contact with the skin, it causes itching and burning.

After severe exposure, water blisters may develop on the skin which can ooze for days. But the reaction does not take place immediately. An incubation period of about two days is usually needed before the rash develops. So often the symptoms begin mid-week after a weekend exposure. In patients who react most severely, sometimes the incubation period is as short as five or six hours.

Contact with the plant is not necessary to cause the rash. Contact with the oil sap of the poison ivy, oak or sumac plant is enough. Sometimes dirty clothes which have come in contact with the plant can transmit the oil to the skin to cause the rash. A pet which gets into the plant can bring enough oil home on its coat to trouble the entire family. In very sensitive patients, even the smoke from burning of the weeds can put the PDCA particles into the air and cause trouble.

There is good treatment for poison ivy. The best management is to avoid contact with the plant or with clothing, equipment or pets which have come in contact with it. If contact can't be avoided, bathing is the next step. Since there is an incubation period before the rash develops, bathing immediately after exposure is helpful. If you know you have been in contact with a poison plant, wash thoroughly as soon as possible. Since the sap is oily, a detergent or shampoo which dissolves the oil will be the most effective.

There is good treatment possible even after the rash appears. Bathing to remove the sap is important. This can be followed up by the use of a cream containing a cortisone-type drug to suppress the inflammation and reduce the entire reaction. In severe or wide-spread cases, doctors sometimes prescribe cortisone-type medicines by mouth, with good relief. These medicines are not available without prescription since they have important side effects.

For the most part, creams and tablets which can be bought without prescription are not strong enough to be helpful in treating the rashes of poison ivy, poison oak, or poison sumac. Nor does it make any difference at all which of these plants causes the rash. The treatment is the same regardless.

Western movie changing

FOCUS ON THE WESTERN; Edited by Jack Nachbar, Prentice-Hall, Inc.; 156 pages; $6.95.

Reviewed By FRANK MACOMBER

In 1973, while Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev was in the United States for a summit meeting with President Nixon, Air Force 1 took the two men over the Grand Canyon.

When the President asked Brezhnev if he ever had seen such country, the Russian leader replied that yes, he had seen these scenes in John Wayne westerns.

Indeed, the western movie has reached out to nearly every nation in the world. And for three generations it has been a Saturday afternoon ritual experienced by millions of American children in thousands of theaters across the land.

Now television has extended the western's option as something important in the collective mind of 20th Century America.

Jack Nachbar, in his introduction to "Focus on the Western," calls western movies "the single most important story form of the 20th Century." Some of the authors he selected for this absorbing book have other ideas.

Author Michael Marsden believes the hero of the classic western is an "American god," who, in the name of a divinely ordered civilization, takes a Colt .45. He points out that this sagebrush savior dispenses justice with bullets, lives by code and never shoots first. The kids used to get a sugarcorned moral lesson every Saturday.

But times have changed and the modern western has been dressed in new togs. John Wavell points out that in contrast to the earlier epics, the 1970s ushered in the era of the "antiwestern."

The heroes no longer are all that virtuous, he points out. For example, Clint Eastwood in "A Fistful of Dollars" was no gentleman and his deeds were scarcely marked by moral purpose but instead by unscrupulousness and violence.

So, he concludes, films like "A Fistful of Dollars" represented a major departure in theme, story and style from the traditional western we grew to love.

In this volume Nachbar presents some of the best that has been written about the western, documenting its growth from 1903 in "The Great Train Robbery" to its continuing popularity in such modern landmark films as "McGee and Mrs. Miller" and "The Wild Bunch."

The book is spiced with photos of American movie cowboys like G.M. (Bronco Billy) Anderson, the first western star; William S. Hart, king of the teens; Tom Mix, hero of the '20s, and some of those who followed. Gene Autry, Roy Rogers, Gary Cooper and John Wayne.

Articles by noted critics and film analysts Robert Warshaw and Jim Kiffes discuss the ideas and images that set the western genre apart from all other movie formulas. And they touch on the western's often controversial treatment of violence and its attempts to idealize American history.

The book also contains a selected chronology of the western movie — "Seventy Years on the Trail" — beginning with "The Great Train Robbery" and moving down through the years to Clint Eastwood's "High Plains Drifter" in 1973.

Nachbar, who divides his time between the English Department and the Center for the Study of Popular Culture at Bowling Green State University, has put together a book to grab not only the western movie buff but anyone who likes to look back down the trail to what the oldsters call "the good ole days."

Police halt driveway waterproofing scheme

Granite City police last night solved one case of a local couple being bilked of $150 in a confidence game involving the waterproofing of driveways, but officers warned that other groups still may be operating in the Quad-City area.

Police brought six persons to the police station who were camping in the Mitchell area and two of them were identified by a couple which had been bilked of the money. Charges were not filed after the men made restitution of $150 to the couple.

The six men were told to leave the Quad-City area and not return.

At least six incidents have been reported to Granite City police in which men offer to seal driveways for a small sum. After the work is completed, the men demand a much higher amount, saying the homeowner misunderstood them on the cost. Payments ranging from $150 to $250 have been alleged.

In one case, a man said the workers said they would seal his driveway for $8. The man poured a tar or oil substance on a section of the driveway and then demanded $150, saying they had agreed on a price of $8 per gallon for the substance plus the labor costs and fees.

Another man said the oil was poured over his driveway and would not harden and he was later forced to purchase a truckload of sand to place over the oil so he could use the driveway.

Most payments have been made in cash, but one man reported paying by check. He then asked police if he should have made the payment and was advised to stop payment on the check. He notified the bank but was told the check already had been cashed.

Several victims were called to the police station last night to try and identify the men, but only one couple was able to do so. The other team still is operating here.

Police described the operation as "a fly-by-night Kypsy-type confidence game," and advised homeowners to beware of entering into any type agreement. Officials of Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities said that anyone feeling they may be the intended victim of any confidence game should call the Chamber office at 876-6400 prior to paying any money.

Similar operations have been reported in East St. Louis by a firm which gave its victims a Granite City address as its office. The address is false, police said.

Helen Hawkins files candidacy

Mrs. Helen Hawkins, 2600 Angela Drive, filed today with the Madison County clerk's office as an independent candidate for the District 26 Madison County Board seat now held by Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsett.

Mrs. Hawkins had been an independent in the County Board race as of today. The filing period opened Monday and continues through Monday, Aug. 5.

Attends seminar

The Customer Assurance Division for Whirlpool Electric and Cooling Products has announced the graduation of Kenneth George Spiroff from its management seminar.

Spiroff resides at 1106 St. Thomas St., Pontoon Beach. He attended classes at the National Training Center in Nashville, Tenn.

The curriculum includes classroom and laboratory sessions in advanced techniques of installation and service.

Recruit graduates

Navy Firearm Recruit Michael E. Godair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton E. Godair, 1834 Third St., Madison, was recruited from recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. He is scheduled to report to Naval Maintenance Technician School.

He received nine weeks of instruction in maintenance of small arms training, fire fighting, close order drill, first aid and Naval history.

moved from their present location at 401 Madison Avenue to the new building as soon as the transaction is completed, Paschoff announced.

Paschoff's office and the town and general assistance offices located in that part of the building facing Fifth Street, will remain unchanged.

The supervisor said the township has been paying $250 monthly rental for the building and its assessor's offices in the old First National Bank building at Fourth Street and Madison Avenue, and $175 monthly for the general town offices at 1502 Fifth St.

This will represent a monthly saving of $425 in rental fees, while the township will benefit additionally from whatever rental it realizes for the three second-floor apartments, Paschoff said.

The Town Board also received a request from the Venice Park Board for a total of $1,500 to be used in the park district's recreational program. The township already has purchased $5,000 worth of recreation equipment for Venice this year.

Paschoff appointed James Woodmore and Earl Moody to a committee to determine what additional money is needed

Gateway Nationals of Drag Racing opens tomorrow

This weekend will be the big weekend of the year for drag racing fans in the St. Louis area as top-name competitors from about 38 states converge on St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison for the $150,000 Gateway Nationals of Drag Racing.

The event is the eighth in the 10-race series of Grand American races, sanctioned by the American Hot Rod Association.

Jim Tice, AHRA national president, predicted at a press conference Tuesday in St. Louis, "We're going to have every outstanding drag racer in the country here this weekend."

Tice said with only three national events remaining on the AHRA schedule, many of the point races are very close and the competitors dare not miss a single race if they want to try for the coveted AHRA crown in the funny car, top fuel, pro-stock or pro-comp classes.

He said pro-stock action will include heated competition between Bill "The Grump" Jenkins and Larry "Soapy Sales" Huff. Huff is the current point leader, but Jenkins could make up the margin by winning two of the next three events.

"There really is no love lost between the two and they will be using every trick in the book to defeat each other this weekend," Tice envisioned.

Jenkins and Huff will compete in a special "no-holds-barred" series of grudge races Friday night at the local track with each trying to win at least two of three runs, the AHRA president explained.

"The cars will not be weighed or inspected, and you can bet they will not be using the same engines or the same weight they will have during the regular competition," Tice said.

Other big names expected include "Big Daddy" Don Garlits, "Kansas John" Wiebe, Don "The Snake" Prudomme, Tom "The Mongoose" McEwen, Gene "The Snowman" Snow, Chris "The Greek" Karamasins, Wayne Gapp, Bill Bagshaw and many others.

About 700 automobiles, including more than 100 in the funny car, top fuel dragster, pro-stock and pro-comp ranks will be competing during the three days.

Jet cars and wheel standers also have been invited.

Gates will open at noon Friday for time trials with eliminations at 6 p.m. and the Jenkins-Huff grudge matches at 8 p.m.

Saturday time trials will start at 9 a.m. with semi-final runs and final qualifying at 6 p.m. Sunday the gates will open at 8 a.m. for trial runs with championship eliminations beginning at 2 p.m.

General admission will be $5 for each day with children under 12 admitted free. Special starting line tickets are available for Saturday and Sunday at $8 each. The track's time refreshment policy will be in effect throughout the event.

St. Louis International Raceway is located at Route 203 at Interstate 70 and 55, south of Madison.

Soccer coaches study in Brazil

Five Illinois college soccer coaches will travel to Sao Paulo, Brazil, for a two-week training program in cooperation with four top Brazilian professional soccer clubs. The trip is being sponsored by the Illinois-Sao Paulo Partners of the Americas Program.

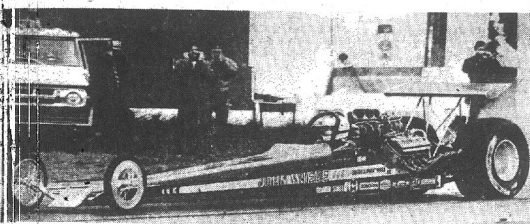

The five Illinois collegiate soccer coaches are: Frank Longo, Quincy College; Jack Mackenzie, Quincy College; Bob Gueker, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville; John Mackenzie, Western Illinois University; and Steve Janczak, Lewis College, Joliet.

In charge of the group, which will return here Aug. 15, will be Longo, sports consultant of the Illinois Partners' group.

He has been responsible for arranging several soccer exchanges between Illinois and Sao Paulo. He set up the trip to Sao Paulo for the five-coach group during a visit to Brazil in April of this year.

One of the pro teams in Brazil which will work with the U.S. coaches is the Palmeiras Football Soccer Club, winner of the past two national soccer championships. Seven members of the Palmeiras club were on the Brazilian team which played in the 1974 World Cup playoffs.

Longo, a graduate of St. Louis' McBride High, did his college work at Quincy and returned to coach for eight years at McBride and Vianney before returning to his college alma mater.

TOP PERFORMERS, such as "Kansas John" Wiebe, shown here piloting his top fuel dragster, will be on hand during the Gateway Nationals of Drag Racing at St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison this weekend. Wiebe is the only competitor who has chance of taking the season point crown away from two-time winner "Big Daddy" Don Garlits, who also will compete here. Racing begins at noon tomorrow and will continue through Sunday evening with top fuel dragsters, funny cars, pro-stocks, pro-comps and trophy and money classes slated to compete.

Women's Slow Pitch event opens tonight

The Illinois Amateur Softball Association Women's Slow Pitch State Tournament will start tonight at the VFW Field in Caseyville.

Petrillo Produce of Granite City, the defending state champion, will play at 9 p.m. against the Challengers of Fulton, Ill. The host team, the Collinsville Comanches will play at 8 p.m. against the Dashers of Red Bud.

In the opening round the Granite City Rebels, 1972 state champion, will tangle with Kentucky Fried Chicken of Granite City. The 7 o'clock game will pit the Eagle Park Eagles of Madison and Friday's Truckers of Caseyville. During the last games of the evening, Sammy's Tavern of Granite City will play the Madison Kools of Madison.

Six games are on tap for Friday with Bill's Auto Body of Granite City languishing in Mary Brown Center of East St. Louis. The 7 p.m. game brings Mercer's of Granite City, state champions in 1970-71, against Fairmont City. During the 8 p.m. game, the Valmeyer Pazers will play the winner of Game Two, which would be either the Eagle Park Eagles or Friday's Truckers.

The 9 o'clock game will have the Rolling Stomies of Decatur and the winner of Game One, which would be the Rebels or Kentucky Fried.

In the 10 o'clock game, Modern Electric of Urbana tangles with the winner of Game Three, Sammy's Tavern or the Madison Kools.

The last game on tap for the evening will have Ford Baier of the Bloomington playing the Bloomington.

On Saturday, the Bakos Basedusters, last year's runner-up, will play the winner of Game Four, which would be Bill's Auto Body or Mary Brown Center.

Fourteen other games will be on tap for Saturday, and 12 games on Sunday, including the finals at 9 p.m. Sunday.

Twenty teams from the state are entered in this Sixth Annual State Tournament with the state champion and runner-up advancing to the women's regionals in St. Charles, Ill., Aug. 16 to 18. The winner of the women's regionals will take part in the world tournament in Elk Grove, Calif., Aug. 30 thru Sept. 2.

Carol E. Brown, vice-president of the Illinois Amateur Softball Association, will be the tournament director.

NATIONAL VISITOR to Granite City this week was this "Go Army" drag racing car, a 1955 classic Chevrolet specially prepared by soldiers at Fort Hood, Tex. The 265-cubic-inch powered car holds the L/Stock Production national record in the American Hot Rod Association and also is a National Hot Rod Association national record holder. It will be among about 700 cars which will compete in the Gateway Nationals of Drag Racing Friday, Saturday and Sunday at St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison. (Press-Record Photo)

Championship Army car here for race

To the soldiers at Fort Hood, Tex., the U.S. Army means more than the everyday life of standing ready to protect this nation's interests, it also means being active in one of the most unique projects in today's Army, the Go Army racing team.

The Army has found that its drag racing rivalry with the Navy has benefited recruiting efforts in both services.

The concept of the "all soldier" racing team grew out of the success of a drag strip located on the Texas base. The team was assembled from soldiers, who were qualified to race, as well as construct and maintain the cars. The cars and all of the operating equipment are funded by team members and various manufacturers at no expense to the Army or taxpayers.

Last year, the team set seven drag racing records, and picked up a Best Appearing Crew award along the line.

One of the Ft. Hood L/Stock Production class cars, the "Go Army Classic," is in Granite City this week. It has been completely repolished and decked out in a red, white, and blue stars and stripes theme. It is powered by a 265 cubic inch engine with all of the latest racing developments.

Alternately driven by Capt. Franklin Ham and Sgt. Sylvester Carey, the Classic enters this weekend's American Hot Rod Association sanctioned Gateway Nationals fresh from a clean sweep in the NHRA Summer Nationals at Englishtown, New Jersey.

The car holds two American Hot Rod Association class championships; three NHRA class championships; two International Hot Rod Association class championships, and a quarter-mile IHRA world record elapsed time of 13.27 seconds at a speed of 102 miles per hour.

In addition to racing, the soldiers—who return all money winnings during the season to the tracks—take their cars to high school seminars, shopping malls, custom auto shows and fairs.

Another Army sponsored car, the funny car driven by Don "The Snake" Prudomme, will continue its famous rivalry with the Navy backed car of Tom "The Mongoose" McEwen during the Gateway Nationals race here Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

More than 80 awards have been given to boys who participated this week in the Granite City Little Rascal Football Olympics held at Granite City High School's football field.

The sporting event was open to prospective players of the club and to all boys attending Granite City schools.

Trophy and ribbon recipients, by division were: Junior Pee Wee—1st place, John Frangoulis; 2nd, Brian Levin; 3rd, Doug Patrick. Ribbons were awarded to Dave Sheikh, Ron Rowden, Brian Sparks, Chris Chenevert, Chad Overath, Art Williams, Roland Niederkorff and Mark Bowan, all for first place.

Pee Wee—1st, John Linhart; 2nd, Ken Wallace; 3rd, Kevin Sykes. First place ribbons were awarded to Carl Luehmann, Kevin Fowler, Jeff Buhmann, Dave Pinkston, John Luehmann and Kevin Hayes.

Midjet—1st, Tim Dudley; 2nd, Sanford Dickey; 3rd, Craig Knight. First place ribbons were awarded to Scott Buhmann, Jeff Berghaden, Ron Pinkston, Jeff Claypool, Mark Beleville, Robert Kirgen and Scott Blacklock.

Meeting for park managers

The Granite City Park District will hold a meeting at the Nameok Recreation Center, Ames and Franklin Avenues, at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 6, for all persons interested in being a team manager in the park district's 1974 flag football program.

Issue cross-country equipment Aug. 15-16

Granite City High School South athletes who are planning to enter that school's fall cross-country sports program are reminded that they may be issued the necessary equipment for the sport Aug. 15 and 16 from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. at GCHS South gymnasium.

Roger Smith, South High athletic coordinator, announces that practice will begin Aug. 19 and all participating athletes must have their physical examination forms completed and turned in before that date.

LEGAL GOLFERS — Four Madison County Circuit Court judges are among those who have entered the first annual Granite City Officer Friendly benefit golf and hole-in-one tournament to be held Sunday, Aug. 4, at the Arlington Heights Golf Course. From left are: Judge John Gitchoff, Judge Fred Schuman, Judge Joseph Barr, and Granite City Police Sergeant Kelly Hodges, co-organizer of the event. Judge Victor Moscoe also has entered. Anyone wishing to compete in the one-day tournament may register at the Granite City police station or call 451-9760.

Braves try for crown here Sunday

The rookie Braves of Granite City will lay their 21-9 Bellevue Area Traveling Baseball League record on the line Saturday against Bellevue West at 6 p.m. at Wilson Park in a winner take all contest in the league championship as the prize.

Fast becoming known as a "Cinderella" team, the Braves this season entered one of the most competitive leagues in the area and began knocking off many of the top teams in the Southern Illinois, including O'Fallon, the defending Illinois State Khoury champions.

O'Fallon had defeated the local squad twice in regular season competition before falling 3-2 to the Braves this week in league playoffs which took 12 innings to complete.

Brave hurler Kirk Champion will start on the mound Sunday against the undefeated West team. The victor of the contest will represent Southern Illinois in a state meet at Springfield.

Paddlers 3rd at swim event

Granite City Paddler's Club divers earned 24 points to place third at Sunset Hills Country Club during the annual Southwestern Illinois Swimming Association championships.

Dorchester of Bellevue was winner with 36 points. Gailight of Collinsville was second with 30 points, Granite City and Summersport of Alton tied with 23 points each. Bellefontaine of St. Louis earned seven and one-half points and Montclair of Edwardsville and Sunset Hills tied with one point each.

Garnering points for Paddlers were: David Lindsay, first, in the 15-17 age group; David Jolly, second in 12-and-under; Alice Miller, second, in 15-17, and Paul Worthen, third, 15-17 age group.

Entry open for Park golf event

Entry applications now are accepted at the Granite City Park District office for its fourth annual Golf Tournament to be held Aug. 25 at the Arlington Heights Golf Course. Qualifying rounds will be played on the shorter of either Sunday, Aug. 11, or Monday, Aug. 12, with starting times being assigned between 1 and 4 p.m.

Individuals may play in threesomes earlier than starting times on either qualifying day by special arrangement with the starter. In the event threesomes are not available, twosomes will be accepted by special arrangement with the starter. Tee offs will be held with six minute intervals between each entrant.

Tournament winners will be determined by combining qualifying rounds and final round scores. An eight stroke shoot-out will be in effect.

A $4 entry fee for Arlington Golf Club members is required by 5 p.m. the day prior to the playing of the qualifying round. For non-members the fee is $12. The charges include green fees for two 18-hole rounds.

The entry limit is set at 100 players. Further information may be obtained from Mike Jessee, park district recreation director, at 877-3059.

McClure sets new cycle race record

"Records were made to be broken and races were made to be won." That is the philosophy of Texas motorcycle racer Guy McClure who accomplished both feats Tuesday at Tri-City Speedway during the American Motorcycle Association sanctioned weekly racing program.

McClure started his sweep to victory by setting a new track record of 15.42 seconds on the quarter-mile dirt oval here. The old record of 15.57 was set two weeks ago by Texan Larry Beal.

Last week, McClure joined fellow Texan James Lee as a two-time main event victor. Tuesday he became the first rider this season to win three feature races.

The youthful rider gave the Lone Star state a six in nine record in feature wins by leading the 12-lap event from start to finish. Oklahoma's Randy Creek was second, Lee third, and Milstead's Danny Kirkland fourth.

Prior to winning the main race, he took first in his heat race and then edged Lee at the checkers to capture his semi-feature victory.

Other heat winners were Florida's William Labrie; Collinsville's Doug Ahn; Kirkland, and Oklahoma's Ed Daley.

Don Sills of Oklahoma was victorious in the consolation race and Labrie and Kirkland captured their respective semi-feature races.

Texas riders will seek to continue their domination of the professional cycle races at Tri-City Speedway next Tuesday when time trials get underway at 7 p.m. and the state at 8 p.m.

Postpone tennis

Granite City's all-star tennis squad will carry its 2-1 record into action at 1 p.m. Tuesday against Wood River on the opposing team's home courts.

The local squad — Jim Eftimoff, Jeff Hagopian, George Miller, Laura Gabriel, Christy Bauer, Tammy Terrell, Andy Hall, and Terri Dettering — was to have played East St. Louis here last week, but the contest was postponed until 1 p.m. Friday, Aug. 9.

Granite City is part of an eight community parent effort in organizing tennis for boys and girls in the 10 to 14-year-old age group.

Spalding watches race point battle closely

Oh, the pressures of being a defending track champion in the late model stock car division at Tri-City Speedway.

Pontoon Beach's Wib Spalding, long hailed as the king of dirt track auto racing here, is feeling those pressures this year in his quest for a third consecutive championship.

The local "hot dog" began his sweep toward the top title by winning three of nine feature races and other events, but the fear of every driver — mechanical problems — took its toll on his point lead, allowing Missouri's Len Gittenmeier to overtake and eventually pass him in the point standings.

After being idle two weeks, Spalding returned to the half-mile oval Friday to close the gap on Gittenmeier by winning the 50-lap mid-season championship main event.

The victory kept Spalding second in the standings with 1,465 points, or 170 behind Gittenmeier.

Not only does the Pontoon Beach driver have the pressure on him to regain his leadership in the standings, but the return of mechanical difficulties or failure to place well in tomorrow's racing program could cause him to yield his second place position to two-time feature winner Russ Wallace who has 1,385 points.

"Of course I like to win," commented Spalding, "but the enjoyment and the thrill of competing means just as much to me."

"I'll ever get to the point where the enjoyment is gone, I'll hang up my helmet."

Spalding, and other late model competitors here, will take to the dirt oval at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow for time trials and then make the dash for the checker flag at 8:30 p.m. in the first heat race.

Sportsman class racing, unlike its counterpart, does not engage in qualifying laps and begins its program on the quarter-mile track with heat races.

St. Louisian John Wolfmeier, who has yet to capture a sportsman main event here, led the pack in the standings with 1,000 points. Granite City's Rod Bailey has 840 and Jack Yates 730.

4 teams in tournament

Four Granite City Park District softball teams will represent this area in the Illinois Amateur Softball Association's Men's Class AA State Slowpitch tournament which gets underway today at Rock Island, Ill.

The Granite City teams — Granite City Merchants, Dale Campbell Agency, Millie & Mickey's and Granite City Realty — earned the right to compete at the state meet by virtue of their finishing positions here last month in the Class AA Regionals held at Worthen Park.

The double-elimination tournament here saw the Merchants emerge as champions after downing Campbell Agency 24-6, Millie & Mickey's 14-0 in semi-final action, and Campbell 15-6 in the title game.

The Campbell Agency squad advanced to the final against the Merchants after downing Millie & Mickey's 9-6 and Granite City Realty 9-7 in the losers' bracket.

Although the state meet begins today, the local teams are not slated to compete in the double-elimination tournament until Saturday.

At 11 a.m., Dale Campbell Agency meets East St. Louis; at noon, Granite City Realty meets southwestern Illinois team; at 2 p.m. the Granite City Merchants meet Decatur, and at 3 p.m. Millie & Mickey's meets southwestern Illinois team.

Driver recovering

Stephen Kraus, 1721 Ferguson Road, who was injured in a racing accident Friday at Tri-City Speedway, has been released from St. Elizabeth Hospital and is reported recuperating at home.

Troy, now 9-2, drew a bye this past weekend. Troy 7-5, was scheduled to play Highland-Pierson, with the latter contest being rained out and rescheduled for Tuesday.

The Mercer-Highland contest again was postponed, until next week, after the game was found to conflict with another scheduled game on the same diamond.

Mercer is to play host to Livingston at 2 p.m. Sunday at Wilson Park but Troy also will be active, at Plaza. Panama has the bye this week and the only other game on tap is Highland-Pierson at 2 p.m. Sunday.

League standings going into this weekend are: Red Division - Troy 9-2, Mercer 7-5, and H-P 4-6; Blue Division - East Alton 7-2, Panama 6-6, Plaza 4-7, and Livingston 2-8.

Mercer games postponed Park baseball

The Mercer squad of the Illinois Inter-City Baseball Association is vacationing presently for a chance to gain ground on the league's Red Division Leader, Troy, after two previously scheduled games had to be postponed.

Troy, now 9-2, drew a bye this past weekend. Troy 7-5, was scheduled to play Highland-Pierson, with the latter contest being rained out and rescheduled for Tuesday.

The Mercer-Highland contest again was postponed, until next week, after the game was found to conflict with another scheduled game on the same diamond.

MRS. JOHN W. GALBREATH, the former Miss Darla Sue Walton, whose wedding took place at St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church. She is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Walton, 57 Janday Lane. (Granite City Press-Record)

Darla S. Walton becomes Mrs. John W. Galbreath

Pink candles in branched candelabra, arranged with baskets of summer flowers in assorted colors, and pink bows marking the pews along the white carpeted aisle of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church provided the setting for the wedding on July 20 of Miss Darla Sue Walton and John W. Galbreath.

The Rev. Robert T. Becker performed the double ring ceremony at 11 o'clock in the morning. He was assisted by Michael Inyart.

Mrs. Vicki Simpson, Jon Grindstaff and Larry Smallie furnished the musical selections, including "Color My World," "Here, There and Everywhere," "Follow Me," "The Wedding Song," "You Are the Sunshine of My Life" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Walton, 57 Janday Lane. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Galbreath, reside at Rural Route One, Ashmore, Ill.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Walton chose a gown of satin and re-embroidered Alencon lace, hand beaded with tiny seed pearls.

The long fitted sleeves and Empire bodice, enhanced with a sheer pink yoke, were lavishly appliqued with lace motifs. A pink ruffie encircled the hemline of her controlled skirt which swept into a chapel train.

She wore a cameo brooch and a necklace of imported lace and pink satin to secure her cathedral length veil of tiered nylon illusion. Her long, trailing bridal bouquet consisted of miniature white carnations intermingled with pink Sweetheart roses and festooned with pink satin streamers.

Matron of honor Mrs. Mary Beth Walton Chomko and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Jane Walton Ford, Dr. Lynn Marie Walton Martin, all sisters of the bride; Miss Dawn Marie Ford, a niece of the bride; Mrs. Diane Walton, the bride's sister-in-law, and Mrs. Ruth Diak Klaus, were dressed alike in pink quiana knit gowns.

Their floor length dresses were designed with scoop necklines, long full sleeves and highruse waists and complemented with white picture hats, trimmed with pink grosgrain ribbons.

Each attendant carried a bouquet of daisies in pastel shades interspersed with baby breath and accented with pink streamers.

Robert Eugene and Lori Ann Martin, a niece and nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer and flower girl. She wore a frock similar in style to the adult attendants' dresses and carried a white wicker basket of pink rosebuds.

The groom chose Dr. John P. Whalen as his best man. Groomsmen included Jerry Galbreath, a brother of the groom, Jim Wood, Larry Shipley, John Klaus and Eugene Whittam Walton, a brother of the bride.

Lighting the candles were nieces of the bride, Sherri and Cara Lynn Walton. Immediately following the ceremony a buffet brunch was served at the Round Table Restaurant, Collinsville, with Miss Nancy Ropac attending the guest book. Assisting at the

REV. DAVID RICHARDSON

Rev. Richardson to new post

The Rev. David T. Richardson, associate pastor of Third Baptist Church, 2601 Grand Ave., has accepted a new position as minister of music at the Concord Baptist Church in Chattanooga, Tenn.

He will direct the local church choir in a musical called "Sound of Singing" as his final presentation at the church on Sunday.

The public is invited to attend the 6:30 p.m. service followed by a farewell reception for the Richardson family, church officials announced today.

A musical and youth director at Third Baptist for seven and a half years, Rev. Richardson also organized two youth folk groups called the "Windos" and the "Winsons."

Rev. Richardson also served as director of the Baptist Student Union at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and as the Baptist Associational director of music.

He was a member of the 100-mile choir known as the Centurymen associated with the Southern Baptist Convention and has sung with the Singing Illinoisans.

Mrs. Richardson, the former Earita Sanders, has been teaching in the Granite City School district. They have four children, Beth, 16; Terry, 14; Tim, 10 and Melody four.

MR. AND MRS. EUGENE MILLER JR., who were united in marriage at Trinity United Methodist Church. She is the former Miss Catherine D. Howard, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Howard, 2525 E. 27th St.

Howard-Miller wedding at Trinity Methodist

Trinity United Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding at 7 p.m. on July 5 of Miss Catherine D. Howard, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul U. Howard, 2525 E. 27th St., and Eugene L. Miller Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Miller, 2434 E. 24th St.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Ellis H. Dugger before an altar decorated with summer bouquets and tall candelabra holding burning tapers.

Preceding the ceremony Joyce Harris played a program of organ music, including "We've Only Just Begun."

For her wedding, the bride wore a long gown of Nottingham lace fashioned with an oval neckline.

The sleeves were fitted to the elbow then flared to the wrists and the semi-gathered skirt had a wide flounce at the hemline edged with a tiny decorative trim.

She wore a mantilla veil bordered with matching lace and she carried a wicker basket of daisies, white roses pom poms and baby breath accented with satin ribbon streamers.

Miss Cynthia D. Howard served as her sister's maid of honor, with Miss Kathleen Miller, the groom's sister, as bridesmaid.

They wore mint green and orchid floor length gingham dresses designed and created by the bride in an Empire style. A ruffled trim edged the scoop necklines and a gathered flounce encircled the skirt hem.

Each attendant wore a picture hat with streamers to match her attire and held a wicker basket filled with daisies, carnations and baby breath.

The groom selected David Trower as best man, James and David Miller, brothers of the groom, and Richard Carney were groomsmen and ushers. Mrs. Betty Stroud registered the guests as they arrived at the church.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Howard chose a mint green polyester dress with a roll neckline and long sleeves.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Miller, was attired in a blue dress enhanced with a lace trim at the neckline and long lace sleeves. Both mothers wore white cymbidium orchids.

A rehearsal dinner was held at Ravanelli's for the wedding party and their families.

Following a honeymoon trip to Missouri the newlyweds are now residing in Granite City.

A 1970 graduate of Granite City High School, the bride is employed as a personnel clerk by the U.S. Army Aviation Systems Command, St. Louis.

Her husband has completed three years of study at Southern Illinois University and works as a clerk at Granite City Steel.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were, Mrs. Betty Stroud of Grand Rivers, Ky.; Mrs. Alice Davis and Mrs. Keith Arndt of Sorento, Ill.; Mrs. Opal Taylor of East Alton; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Howard, Alton; Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Sales and family of Godfrey; Mr. and Mrs. Bynum Burris, Miss Brenda Burris and Mrs. Bea Porter of Vienna, Ill.; Miss Tyra Porter, Anna, Ill.; and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Schmelzel of Belleville.

MISS ROBIN JULIA GREER, whose parents Mr. and Mrs. James E. Greer Sr., 5504 Maryville Road, are announcing her engagement to Jess Giles Rinehart. A fall wedding is planned.

Rinehart-Greer betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Greer Sr., 5504 Maryville Road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Robin Julia Greer, to Jess Giles Rinehart.

The prospective groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James V. Rinehart, 4327 Kaseburg Lane. He attended Hazelwood (Mo.) schools and is now employed as a mechanic at Vesco's Service Station.

Miss Green was graduated in 1973 from Granite City High School. She works at Universal Printing Co., St. Louis.

Plans are being completed by the engaged couple for a fall wedding at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

County youths at Boston meet

Spiritual commitment is essential to individual purpose and accomplishment, more than 7,000 young Christian Scientists were told at an International Youth Meeting in Boston this week (July 29-31).

Among the several hundred young people from Illinois who are attending the sessions at The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., were 20 from Madison County.

According to Charles A. Meyer, assistant to the Committee on Publication for Granite City, all of the young people who attended the meeting are members of The Mother Church, and many also are active in one of the 135 branch churches in Illinois or in one of the 28 Christian Science college organizations in the state.

Together with young members from other lands, they explored the theme of the conference, "Lord, what wilt thou have me to do?" a Bible verse from the book of Acts.

Questions of special interest to young people such as "What's my purpose?" "What shall I do? Where am I headed? How can I fulfill my promise in life?" are being discussed in depth at the meeting.

The chairman of The Christian Science Board of Directors, DeWitt John told them: "The answers come when our career goal is to know God and love Him, to demonstrate His nature, and to help and heal others."

The following Christian Scientists from Illinois participated in the program: Heidi Boyman and Joan Andrews from Elmhurst; Don Wallingford of Champaign; and Glen Livezey of Chicago.

There are 3,200 branches of The Mother Church and 350 Christian Science colleges and organizations in 54 countries.

Box supper for Baptist youth

The young people of Central Baptist Church attended an old-fashioned box supper during the weekend at an Alton park.

Serving as auctioneer for the decorated boxes was James Craig.

Those attending were Laura and Martha Lamb, Kathy, Rita and Karen Williams, Kim Kalpis, Tommie and LaVonne Austin, Mark Fienishriber, Jeff Baiter, Mike Corkran, Danny and James Hearn, Freda Brown, Dennis McCaslin and Jo Ann Snell.

Adults accompanying the group included Mr. and Mrs. Danny Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Craig, Mrs. Mullenax and the Rev. John Lamb.

Eagles Auxiliary plan fund project

Eagles Auxiliary 1126 met last week and agreed to promote a fund-raising project by having a Country Store and Barbecue on Sept. 21 at the Eagles Home, 26th Street and Madison Avenue.

All proceeds will be used for the organization's charitable programs.

President Mrs. Billie Schuler presided at the meeting and presented Mrs. Florence Hagnauer, the auxiliary mother, with a mother's pin.

After the meeting, special prizes were presented to Florida Batson and Angie Buchler.

Hostesses for the evening were Emma Gobbie, Cathy and Annie Reed.

MR. AND MRS. KEVIN MESTEL who exchanged wedding vows in ceremonies at the First Church of the Nazarene, Highway 111, Granite City. The bride is the former Miss Brenda Kay Mathis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Mathis, 2568 Boyle Ave.

Brenda Kay Mathis and Kevin Mestel are wed

The wedding of Miss Brenda Kay Mathis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Mathis, 2568 Boyle Ave., and Kevin L. Mestel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Mestel, 706 Dooner Drive, Collinsville, was solemnized on July 19 at the First Church of the Nazarene, Highway 111, Granite City.

Officiating at the doubling ceremony at 7:30 p.m. were the Rev. Herbert Merritt of Granite City and the Rev. John Bryon, pastor of the Collinsville First Church of the Nazarene.

A white arch entwined with greenery and red bows and red candles in branched candelabras decorated the sanctuary.

Jerry Doyle sang "The Lord's Prayer," "We've Only Just Begun," "Close To Me," and "A Time For Us," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Herbert Merritt.

For her wedding, the bride wore a softly flowing white gown accented with a lace bodice and long full sleeves capped with matching lace at the shoulders and cuffs.

She chose a halo headpiece trimmed with tiny lace daisies to secure a long veil of bridal illusion and she held at cascade of red roses, pink carnations, red baby's breath and greenery.

Maid of honor Miss Jan Sykes, a cousin of the bride, and bridesmaids, Miss Sheryl White, Miss Janice Moore, the groom's cousin, Miss Sandy and Kim Mestel, sisters of the groom, selected identically styled dresses in blue, pink, yellow, mint green and lilac.

Their frocks were fashioned of nylon dotted swiss and complemented with white picture hats, accented with streamers in shades to match their gowns.

The attendants held a single red rose and the junior bridesmaids carried baskets of rose petals.

Attending the groom as best man was Jerry Casey, Groomsman and ushers included Mark Kirksey, Don Johnson, Jeff Dowdy, Mark and Rick Moore, cousins of the groom, Mike Taylor, Jim Ambury and Mike Hungate.

Mrs. Mathis, mother of the bride, selected a long pink dress with white accessories and the groom's mother, Mrs. Mestel was attired in a full-length, two piece, A-line gown. Both mothers wore rose corsages.

A reception was given in the church fellowship hall immediately following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Mestel, the groom's parents, hosted a rehearsal dinner at the fellowship hall of the Collinsville.

After a wedding trip to Missouri, the newly married couple is now residing in Collinsville.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the bride attended Belleville Area College and is employed at Ford Hotel Supply Co., St. Louis.

The groom was graduated from Collinsville High School and works at Granite City Steel.

Miss Robin Greer feted at party

An August bride-to-be, Miss Robin Greer, was honored at a bridal shower last week, given by Jean Greer and Joellen Hoernemann in the latter's home in St. Louis.

Table appointments and decorations were in purple and white.

Extension leaders to meet Friday

Local leaders from 32 county Homemakers Extension units will attend a lesson Friday at 9:30 a.m. at the Farm Bureau Auditorium in Edwardsville on "The Homemaker and Energy Conservation."

Representatives of Illinois Power will present the discussion which will cover such topics as efficient use of heating and cooling systems, adequate insulation, the use of electrical appliances, etc.

There also will be a question and answer period. The local leaders will report the information for their HEA units during September and October. An interested person may join the local leaders in attending the session.

Mass in German at Our Lady of Snows

Residents of German descent will be treated to an unusual celebration of the Mass at Our Lady of the Snows on Sunday, Aug. 25. The 11:30 morning Mass will be observed completely in German, featuring a homily delivered by the German language and old familiar German hymns.

Father Elmar Maurer, OMI, Pilgrimage Director, is in charge of this unusual event. "Since coming to the Shrine from Germany I have had many residents reminiscing with me about the old country and the old-time German Mass. I thought this could be a welcome service for so many of our local residents and those in the surrounding communities," he said.

The Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows is located on Route 460 near Belleville, Ill.

Vacation School at Nameeki church

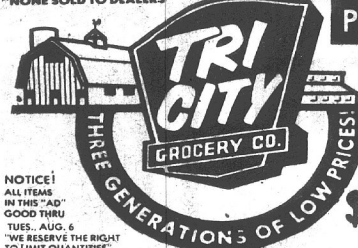

Vacation Bible School at the Nameeki United Presbyterian Church, 1700 Pontchartraine, opened today from 9 to 11:30 a.m., according to the pastor, the Rev. Don Piesner.

On Thursday at 6:30 p.m. an all-church winter roast and open house will be conducted for the children and families. Rev. Piesner added.

According to the pastor, another project for the junior and senior high group will be from 7:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Aug. 12 to 18. In conjunction with the silver anniversary remodeling program the young people will attend breakfast followed by study and devotion and a work session.

"AIR CONDITION A HOG HOUSE?"

No, we're not crazy, but we are afraid that some poor guy sweltering in 100 degree heat might shoot us. But please don't.

Swift and Co. researchers, making a test, proved that swine conceived an increase in average from 50% to 70% under air conditioning and raised from one to two more pigs per litter. This in itself would amount to roughly two months pork supply for the U.S.A.

This is written as a tribute to the big porkers, Univer-sities and researchers who will work out our food problems, given our support.

The United States Army and St. Louis Int'l. Raceway WELCOME DON PRUDHOMME

The United States Army is proud to be affiliated with Don Prudhomme. Don is a typical All American Success Story. By all standards of success, Prudhomme is truly one of Drag Racings finest "showcase" examples. He has earned more than 35 National Racing Titles. Don has appeared in Racing Documentary Films and has a personality to match his driving skills and ability.

Prudhomme, whose best time this year has been 6.22 seconds for the quarter-mile, with a speed of 232 mph, has predicted that this may be the year a funny car will break the six-second barrier. This time sets the funny car standard for both the National Hot Rod Association and the American Hot Rod Association. Prudhomme is now certain that, with the right weather conditions on the right track, he's got the best chance of being the first funny car driver to ever accomplish that feat. His past two-month performance would seem to indicate that "The Snake" isn't just whistling into the wind.

On another front, the Army is pleased that they have associated themselves with the best. One of the big interest items for this year's racing schedule was to be a series of confrontations between the Navy's funny car and the Army machine. So far the record stands: Army - 20, Navy - 2. That kind of record does nothing to displease Army recruiting brass.

Prudhomme hasn't been satisfied with standing on his performance. Recently, Prudhomme has experimented with a revolutionary aluminum block racing engine. "The Snake" has the feeling that he hasn't yet scratched the surface of his new equipment's potential. Prudhomme is pleased that his car has a big "rep," and he's happy that his Army connection is becoming a big psychological weapon in the drag racing wars. The Army's "Snake" will be conducting his next skirmish at St. Louis International Raceway on August 2, 3 and 4.

ATTENTION: All You Future Race Car Drivers!!!

BEFORE YOU BECOME A BIG SUCCESS ON THE TRACK, WHY NOT BECOME A BIG SUCCESS WITH THE UNITED STATES ARMY?
YOUR LOCAL ARMY RECRUITERS WILL HAVE A RECRUITING BOOTH SET UP AT ST. LOUIS INTERNATIONAL RACEWAY AUGUST 2, 3 and 4.

*102,216 Dental School grant

The School of Dental Medicine of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has received a continuing grant of $102,216 from the Division of Physician and Health Professions Education of the National Institutes of Health. The "health professions capitation grant" is to be used by the school for general purposes, under the direction of Dean Stanley P. Hazen. The award is based on enrollment and the impact of the school in providing more dentists to the nation, according to Ethel M. Payne, regional health manpower director for the Bureau of Health Resources Development.

The school received a similar grant of $70,958 last year, when the number of students totaled 64. A new class of 40 students was admitted July 1, bringing the total number of students to 106. Students attend 45 weeks per year, enabling them to complete the requirements for their professional degree in three years instead of the traditional four, which means the first class will be graduated in August, 1975.

Memorial services for Mrs. Wittig

Memorial services will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday at Our Lord's Lutheran Church, Route 159 and Interstate 70 near Collinsville, for Mrs. Betty Wittig, 49, who died July 2 at St. Luke's Hospital, St. Louis.

Mrs. Wittig was born in Linwood, Pa., and had resided in Granite City for 10 years. Funeral services were held at a funeral home in Trainer, Pa. She and her husband, Earl Wittig, resided at 2315 Emerit Ave. with two children, Jeffrey Michael and Leslie Anne Wittig.

FRIDAY, $1.69 AT GRANTS

HUMANE AWARD presented to Dr. Carl Rogers, veterinarian, right, by Donald Anthony, executive director of the Humane Society of Missouri, right, during the Madison County Board meeting. Between them is Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City, chairman of the Madison County Board. Rogers was honored "for designing and implementing the most progressive, constructive and humane animal control program in the U.S.A.," according to the wording on the trophy. The county board adopted Rogers' program of reimbursing animal owners a portion of the cost of having the animals neutered.

BURGLARY ON PONTOON
A television and a radio were taken from a pontoon boat on the lake of Marvin Boyer, 1000 W. Pontoon Road, in a burglary reported at 1:25 p.m. Tuesday.

Recommends three new fire hydrants

Recommendations that three new fire hydrants be installed and that a hydrant at 16th and State streets be relocated has been made to the City Council by Fire Chief Don Parente.

The council has referred the request to City Attorney George Pilcuff for preparation of a resolution providing for the improvements. Parente recommended the removal of a hydrant at the northwest corner of 16th and State streets be removed and relocated on the northeast corner of the intersection. The three new hydrants requested would be located at the northeast corner of Yale and Fehling; northeast corner of 15th and State, and near 3662 Nameoki Road between Cottage and Garfield.

Clarence Rea dies at 71

Clarence A. Rea, 71, of 2025 N. 31st St., Washington Park, father of two Granite City residents, died at 8:45 a.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Born in Greenville, Ill., he had resided in Washington Park for 40 years. He was admitted to the hospital nine days ago. Mr. Rea had been employed as a tractor operator for 16 years with the East Side Levee and Sanitary District prior to his retirement.

His wife, Mrs. Adell Rea, died Oct. 7, 1972. Surviving are two sons, Clarence L. and Ronald D. Rea Sr., both of Granite City; one brother, Elmer Rea of Belleville; a sister, Beulah White of Hillsboro, Ill.; seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Three injured as car overturns

Three persons in the auto of Michael Scarborough, 19, of 2515 Lynch Ave., were injured when the car rolled over at least two times, stopping upside down in a ditch in about three feet of water near Sand and Poag roads at 10:30 p.m. Monday.

Scarborough was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a contusion to his right knee and was released.

Two passengers in the car, Gregory Baur, 2440 Kilarney Ave., and Timothy Vizeer, Toledo, Ohio, suffered minor injuries.

2 hurt in crash

Two persons were injured when the auto of Robert Worthen, 1100 Niedringhaus Ave., struck the parked car of Kevin Duke, 29 Fairway Estates, Arlington Heights, along Horseshoe Lake Road at 10 p.m. Monday.

Duke was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with an abrasion to his right shoulder. A passenger in his car, Miss Sharon Westbrook, 17, of 2553 Morrison Road, was taken by ambulance to the hospital and was admitted with abrasions to her left knee and a possible head injury.

BURGLARIZE HOME
A shotgun, a salt and pepper shaker, $3 worth of pennies, and some pills were stolen from the home of William Stroud, 2205 Missouri St., it was reported at 10:45 p.m. Tuesday. Burned matches were left on the floors of a bedroom, the living room and the kitchen. Some liquor was consumed and a cold can of beer was left on the kitchen table.

Madison changes insurance

Wogs between Fifth Ward Alderman John Haynes and Second Ward Alderman Richard Kismser of Madison over the award of a new employee insurance contract highlighted a meeting of the Madison City Council Tuesday night.

The exchange followed an allegation by Haynes that an earlier delay in opening of insurance bids, requested by Kismser, involved a conflict of interest because an insurance company for which Kismser is an agent was among the bidders.

Prior to the opening of bids, Haynes said he believed Kismser was an agent was among the bidders.

Only three companies submitted final bids; MFA, Equitable Life, and Blue Cross after specifications on coverage and service were outlined.

The majority of the companies could not submit a final bid as they could not include coverage for about 20 honorary city employees the council wanted covered.

The honorary employees are widows of former city employees and employees who retired early. The city pays the insurance for the honorary employees and they, in turn, reimburse the city for the cost. Equitable would not offer a major medical waiver for all employees which was included in the specifications.

Three hurt in two-car crash

Three persons were injured when the autos of Patricia Melroy, 30, of 735 Twenty-seventh Place, and Katherine McClanahan, 54, of 2900 Circle Drive, collided at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue at 6:50 a.m. Tuesday.

The drivers and Terry Sue Mayes, 17, also of 2900 Circle Drive, a passenger in the McClanahan auto, were injured.

Terry Sue Mayes was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital for observation following the crash. She had pain to her right side.

Katherine McClanahan was treated at the hospital for a cut to her right knee and bruises to her right elbow. She was released following treatment. Patricia Melroy suffered minor injuries which did not require hospital treatment.

made by E. W. Clemons whose office is at 3818 Nameoki Road. About 15 to 20 letters to various insurance companies were sent out, including MFA. Our department heads wanted to meet the companies interested. Only three companies bid, due to the fact we are including honorary employees. Almost everyone has been unhappy with Golden Rule's rates and service and the mayor felt we could save money.

"I have spent several hours of my own time trying to get the best rates, better hospitalization and save the city some money. It is not my fault that I happen to work for one of the several companies asked to bid. I don't get a dime from the insurance and I don't even write group insurance."

The letter advised the mayor that the majority of police officers employed by the city of Madison had joined the United Steel Workers of America, AFL-CIO, and have authorized the union to act as their collective bargaining agent.

The mayor requested the City of Madison to recognize the Union as the authorized bargaining agent for all police and requested a meeting with the mayor at his earliest convenience for the purpose of negotiating an agreement.

The mayor referred the letter to the police committee which in turn referred it to the legal department for an opinion.

Bellocco informed the council he had been served with legal papers stating that Charles Seka is suing the city. Seka allegedly hurt himself on an unfinished asphalt street at 2:30 p.m. on May 1 when crossing the street near the intersection of 14th Street and Washington Avenue.

The papers were turned over to the city legal department.

Fiber Sculptress Finds Students At SIUE 'Energetic, Enthusiastic'

International fiber sculptress Neda Al-Hilali says she found an energetic and enthusiastic group of student artists working with man-made materials during a three-day visit to the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

"I saw a great amount of work at SIUE," says Mrs. Al-Hilali, a native of Czechoslovakia who married a man from the Middle East. "I saw attempts to communicate with other art areas. This is good, for how ever talented a student is, he must get other points of view to be a real artist."

"I deplore the feeling of separation among artists' and fiber, or crafts, people," the visiting artist said. "To me it is an artificial separation found even among art teachers. Art and fiber really interlock. I am pleased to see that this barrier is not as evident at SIUE as it is at many schools."

Mrs. Al-Hilali, who teaches at three colleges in California, says that in some cultures, fibers are the major form of creative expression. "For example," she explained, "in Afghanistan, a nomad society, there is less architecture. There, the animal gear and the dress are major art forms."

"It was in the Middle East that I became aware of the potential in fibers," she says. "My career was stimulated by the sumptuous textiles. You might say that until going to the Middle East my work was 'gray sox'."

Mrs. Al-Hilali critiqued the SIUE students' work, lectured and showed slides of her own work and that of other well-known sculptors in fiber. She also talked about the human phenomenon of man-made art. "I think it's typical of operating man's mind," she said. "I grew up working with my fingers. I did many handicraft things—like cooking—which came naturally. Through our history, art and fiber—these two unrelated things—have crossed paths constantly in many different ways."

hard to conceive: putting the brass sound to the hillbilly waltz of bluegrass music. But he pulls it off in an LP for RCA. Those who can't stand the hayseed clatter of bluegrass should try a Davis Ellar — comes out real pretty.

THE WORLD OF MUSIC 'Very best' album recalls the past

By ROBIN WELLES

United Artists dips back in to the fifties and sixties for some of the best music of those decades.

These are some of the artists covered in a series of "very best of" albums: Gordon Lightfoot, Little Anthony, Ferrante & Teicher, Fats Domino, Vikki Carr, Johnny Rivers, Del Reeves, Cher, Martin Denny and Slim Whitman.

Singing such songs as "All I Really Want To Do" and "Alfie," this is a quite different Cher than the raucous, swinging 1974 model — much softer and subdued. Denny's selections are great: he has that kind of music that makes you want to paddle out to Hawaii. Remember the hit TV show "Secret Agent"? Johnny Rivers sings the theme "Secret Agent Man" on his LP. That romping, stomping man, Fats Domino, takes you "Walking to New Orleans" and up "Blueberry Hill." Ferrante & Teicher put you in a romantic mood with "Autumn Leaves," and Little Anthony rolls back the years with "Go in Out of My Head."

This is a fine series for the collector.

Arthur Fielder has the touch that sells, and he also

If someone asked you who Cleo Laine was, you probably would say, "Cleo who?" Yet, this gal has a voice that ranks up there with the greats of the past like Fitzgerald, Holiday and Garland. She's British and hasn't appeared too much in the United States. But the TV shows and records she has done in this country haven't, for some mysterious reason, set the fire for Cleo Laine.

And you wonder why even more after hearing her first album for Stansbury-Buddah called "Cleo Laine — Day by Day." This is a superstar voice. But where's the applause?

No one imagined marrying a brass section to country music until Danny Davis came along. Now Danny's done something that's really

An English rock 'n' roll band, Move, consistently hit the top of British and European charts before breaking up into the Electric Light Orchestra and Roy Wood's Wizard, but for some reason never made it as big in this country as they should have. They were a really excellent group, smooth and hot. Now Adam has come out with "The Best of Move," a two-record set including many of their hits, some never before released in this country in album form. Some of the best cuts are "Flowers in the Rain," "I Can Hear the Grass Grow," "Bronxaurus" and "Fire Brigade." "The Best of Move" will move you.

Olivia Newton-John has a soft, husky voice that reminds you a lot of Peggy Lee — until the guitars start twanging and she slides into the country style. You wonder how a voice that soft can do country, but she does it, and very well — good enough to win this year's Grammy for Best Female Country Artist.

Olivia also is Australian, which is about as far from Biloxi as you can get. But such handicaps matter not to Olivia who now has an LP out for MCA called "Olivia Newton-John — If You Love Me." This is the title of her current hit song, but there are two other songs on the album that are just as good, if not better: "The River's Too Wide" and "You Ain't Got The Right."

Columbia's three-record package of Mozart's "Six Great Piano Concertos" has brilliant performances by Robert Casadesu, George Szell and the members of the Cleveland Orchestra-Columbia Symphony. And the quality of the recording does justice to the expert musicianship of Casadesu, Szell and Company on Mozart's most beloved works — No. 21 in C, K. 467; No. 24 in C minor, K. 491; No. 22 in E-flat, K. 482; No. 26 in D, "Coronation," K. 537; No. 23 in A, K. 498 and No. 27 in B-flat, K. 595. A really satisfying interpretation of great music.

William Griggs speaks to Rotary.

Rotarian William E. Griggs, health inspector for the city of Venice, spoke to the Madison Rotary club at its Wednesday noon meeting in the Madison Recreation Center.

Griggs noted that the people in the North Venice and West Madison are making "tremendous gains" in improving the area. Griggs said that over the past few years, 40 pieces of property had been either completely remodeled or new structures built and that 60 old buildings had been razed.

Granite City Rotarians Larry Dew and Ray Smith visited the club.

The Rotarians reviewed several bylaw changes being proposed by Rotary International.

THROUGH A 'WATERFALL'—Christine Myers (left) of Saint Louis County, Mo., an art student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, and Neda Al-Hilali, an internationally known fiber sculptress, are seen through an opening in a fiber "waterfall" created by Miss Myers. Combining yarn and metallic mylar, the pillow-like areas of the art piece represent rocks, and the fringe emphasizes the "fall." The work was critiqued by Mrs. Al-Hilali during a three-day visit to the SIUE campus.

Tips on avoiding camping hazards

By MARION WELLS

According to the National Safety Council, "Unromantic as it may be, the majority of camping casualties result from the hazards of civilization which man takes with him into the woods."

A few simple precautions may prevent health and safety hazards from coming with you as you leave the city behind.

Begin by catching and correcting camping mistakes in your back yard or a nearby park before your trip even starts. Put equipment and procedures through a trial run and practice pulling that boat, camper or trailer around a neighborhood vacant lot.

Have all vehicles and equipment been checked to insure that they are in optimum working order? Used improperly, certain camping "conveniences" can create serious dangers in the "wide open spaces." Fuel burning heaters, stoves and lanterns use up oxygen and give off deadly carbon monoxide which can tend to build up along camper and tent floors. Safety experts warn that such equipment should never be used in poorly ventilated, enclosed areas.

Be sure liquid fuel is stored in approved metal containers and kept in an open place, away from heat or flame and out of sun. Empty propane cylinders can explode if tossed in the fire.

Your campfire will be safer if you build it downwind and well away from tents or sleeping areas. Pick a level, wind sheltered spot free of tree trunks, overhanging branches and heavy brush. Since fire "... can travel underground, break out days later." Experts advise clearing away leaves and debris until you get down to a rock foundation, or at least bare loam, clay or soil. Always put your campfire out by stirring and dousing the coals a couple of times before replacing sand or dirt.

The National Safety Council reports that "a small fire is safer and best for cooking and comfort." To avoid cooking catastrophes, remember that pouring starter fluid on ignited coals can create a dangerous flashback. If you're roasting marshmallows, don't forget they can carry flame. Also keep a close watch on the pointed roasting sticks.

Watch out for other campers' cars, pets and litter. Caution your youngsters to keep their distance from roadways, moving vehicles and other people's animals when picking places to play. Be sure the family pet are not "bared" to broken glass, cans, splinters, embers, sharp rocks and insects. Be considerate and intelligent enough to take your own litter with you when you leave.

You may also encounter "natural" camping hazards, and it helps if you know what to expect. Do some advance checking on seasonal weather conditions, local insects, snakes, wildlife and poisonous plants as well as scenic attractions, available campsites and special facilities. Libraries, state tourist promotion departments and the national forest service in the area you plan to visit are all possible sources of information.

Camping will be a site safer if you pick a location where nature is working for you. Try to select a spot on high ground with no dead trees nearby which could fall on you in a strong wind. You're less likely to get soaked in a storm if your campsite drains away from the sleeping area. Experts advise avoiding "... cliffs, sites near swift currents, and canyons where flash floods may surprise you." Biting insects and chills are more often encountered in marshy places.

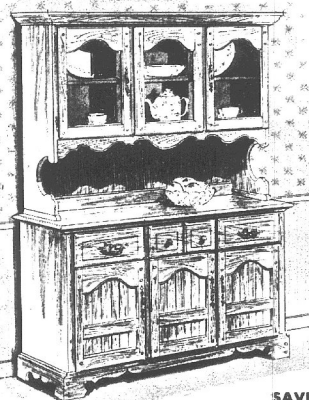

As you explore in your camping area, avoid accidental poisoning by never eating wild plants unless you can positively identify them as being safe.

Woman, 78, Chouteau rejects funding hit by car

Mrs. Ruby Nichols, 78, of 2873 Washington Ave., was struck by an auto at 2nd St. and Madison Avenue at 10:35 a.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Nichols was walking westbound across the street when the northbound auto of Dorothy Farrell, 2515 Iowa St., approached. The driver said a parked van obscured her vision and she did not see the pedestrian until it was too late to avoid striking her.

Mrs. Nichols was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was admitted with an abrasion to her right elbow and an injury to her right hip. X-rays were taken.

Five hurt in cycle mishaps

Five persons were injured in accidents on motorcycles or bicycles Monday and Tuesday and were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The bicyclist, Steven Mifflin, 12, of 2430 Ohio Ave., fell from his bicycle before 3 p.m. Monday. He suffered hematomas to the right temple and the left side of his face and was admitted.

Motorcycle injuries included a cut to the right foot and a burn to the lower right leg of Susan Sardigal, 22, of 1724 Kennedy Drive, Apartment One, Madison, who came to the hospital at 2:30 p.m. Monday. She was admitted.

At 6:50 p.m. Tuesday, Jeffrey Lee Smith, 14, of 2141 Dawn Ave., sought hospital treatment (for abrasions to his left hip and left foot and a head injury from a motorcycle accident. X-rays were taken and he was admitted.

Richard James, 33, of 144 Briarwood Lane, came to the emergency room at 8:25 p.m. Tuesday after he fell from a motorcycle and landed on his left shoulder. He was treated for abrasions to his left shoulder and contusions to his right shoulder. X-rays were taken and he was admitted.

At 9:25 p.m. Tuesday, James Lance, 46, of 2808 Circle Drive, reported his motorcycle had been in an accident. He was treated for abrasions to his left knee, contusions to his left elbow, a cut to his right lip and abrasions to his chin. He was released after a series of X-rays was taken.

Metal workers strike does not affect this area

A St. Louis area sheet metal workers strike that idled about 1,300 workers yesterday morning, "is not and will not affect the Illinois side of the river," according to a spokesman of Sheet Metal Workers Local 268 at Collinsville.

Although picket lines have not been established at Missouri construction sites, workers stayed off the job after negotiations between the Sheet Metal and Air Conditioning Contractors Association and the union broke off late Tuesday.

It is reported that while the two sides are only 57 cents an hour apart on a total settlement package, they are far apart on other issues. Sheet metal workers now earn $10.06 an hour, $8.36 in wages and the rest in fringe benefits.

Weapon charge

Kenneth R. Johnson, 30, of East Alton, was arrested at 1:55 a.m. Tuesday in the 1600 block of Madison Avenue, and was charged with unlawful use of a weapon.

Jessie Johnson, Alton, alleged that he attempted to help a man start his car at that location and the man produced a pistol and pointed it at him.

Police were called and searched Kenneth Johnson's car. They allege they found an automatic pistol under the driver's seat. He was released on $50 bond.

Lake Drive crash injures two

Eric Archer, 26, of 60 Kaseberg Park, Ponton Beach, and a passenger in Archer's auto, Ralph Serini Jr., 2530 Parkside St., were injured when their auto went out of control in the 4600 block of Lake Drive and struck a guard rail.

Archer, who was charged with reckless driving, suffered a puncture wound to his left knee and a cut to his left ankle. He was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Serini underwent treatment for abrasions to his forehead, left elbow and left forearm. He was released following treatment.

A resolution authorizing funding for a truck and tractor for the highway department was rejected by the Chouteau Town Board of Auditors Monday night.

Auditors indicated they felt the interest on the resolution was too high and that they could borrow the money from another institution for less money. A Collinsville lending firm had submitted the funding proposal. The money was to pay for a new truck and tractor which were purchased by Highway Commissioner James Estes on an emergency basis from Bo Beckman Ford of Collinsville for $18,000.

The town board declared last month that an emergency structure is located along the Interstate 270 access road behind the Midwest Motel.

The board authorized repayment of a road and bridge tax anticipation warrant for $15,000 plus interest, thus freeing the highway department's money which had been frozen since receipt. The warrant stipulated that no bills, including payroll for two employees, could be paid until the warrant was paid out.

The payment allowed the board to pay road and bridge bills, totaling about $5,000, including the overdue payroll

FURNITURE IS TAKEN

A couch, six chairs, four tables and a bed were stolen from a mobile home in the lot of Holiday Mobile Home Sales on State Aid Route 35, it was reported at 1 p.m. Monday.

Also approved was an $18,163 bill to Ed Moore Construction Co. as a partial payment for construction of the new township garage.

All other bills, including town fund and road materials bills were approved without discussion.

Woman stabbed in argument

Jerome Johnson, 37, of 2426 Lincoln Ave., was charged with aggravated battery after an alleged disturbance at 2:35 a.m. Tuesday in which his wife, Beverly Johnson, was stabbed twice with a pair of scissors. She was not seriously injured.

Mrs. Johnson was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital. She said she and her husband had a disagreement at a tavern in Granite City.

She said she was driven, at her request, to a friend's home and as she was leaving the auto, the driver grabbed her and stabbed her twice in the left shoulder area with a small pair of scissors. She then was driven home.

She was taken by ambulance to the hospital where her wounds were treated and she was released. She also suffered a blackened eye and several bruises to her upper arms, police said.

At 3:38 a.m. Tuesday, officers were called to Johnson's home and arrested him there.

Trailriders show draws 250 riders

A total of 250 entries was recorded in this week's Trailriders money show at the local saddle club's arena on Chouteau Slough Road, near the Chain of Rocks Canal.

Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City took part in the grand entry of competitors and their mounts. Contestants included several riders from other states.

The next show is scheduled at 6:30 Saturday evening at the arena. The public is invited to attend, admission free.

First place winners in the annual money show were: Haltering division—Warren Wideman haltering Shorby's Fly (stallion class); Pat Mattiesen haltering Sugar Bar Beaver (mare class) and Gary Dalton haltering Sargent Hobby (gelding class).

Clifford files suit to regain county job

Despite denial by the Madison County Board's executive committee on an appeal to be reinstated, Jack Clifford, former county zoning and building administrator, is continuing his fight to regain his old job.

The executive committee Tuesday morning reviewed the case and voted 6 to 1 against reinstating Clifford. An attorney for Clifford immediately requested that the case be reviewed by the whole Madison County Board at its Aug. 21 meeting.

The attorney, James Thebeau of Granite City, also filed suit Tuesday in Madison County Circuit Court against the County Board, alleging Clifford's request for a proper hearing had been denied and asking that Clifford be reinstated and compensated for his loss of income and for the costs he has incurred in fighting the dismissal.

It was reported the county's land use committee was critical of Clifford for assisting developers of a proposed $3 million athletic club near Midway in their efforts to overturn an adverse ruling by the county board on a request for a special use permit.

Thebeau asked Nelson H. Hargrave of Granite City, chairman of the county board and head of the executive committee, to postpone Tuesday's hearing and to give him a bill of particulars on the charges, so he could prepare a proper defense. Hargrave denied the requests.

He also denied a request that the hearing be public. Hargrave conducted a closed-door hearing at the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville with the public and press denied admission.

Louis Whitsell, board member from Nameoki Township, excused himself from the hearing, saying he felt his position on the land use committee, which fired Clifford, may affect his voting on the executive committee on the issue.

Clifford has denied any wrongdoing in the administration of zoning ordinances and has blamed politics for the firing.

Auxiliary gift to youth ranch

Mrs. Jackie Petras of Granite City, president of Amvets Auxiliary Division 5, conducted a divisional meeting this week at Amvets Post 4 in Mount Vernon, Ill.

A $50 cash gift was authorized, to the Peaceful Valley Youth Ranch at Carlinville, Ill., and members of Quad-City Amvets Auxiliary Unit 51 announced plans to donate clothing to the youth facility.

Members agreed to start a scrapbook project detailing the year's activities for presentation to the division president at the conclusion of her term in office.

Tentative plans were made for Mrs. Petras to visit hospitalized veterans at the Marion Veterans Hospital, and the next division meeting was set for Nov. 11 at the Mount Vernon club with the Harrisburg auxiliary as the host unit.

A buffet luncheon was served following the business session. In addition to Mrs. Petras also attending from Granite City were Mrs. Etia Clements, Mrs. Glenda Brockman and Adam Petras, 23rd District commander.

Miller enlists in Marine Corps

Jeff Miller, son of Marine Gunnery Sergeant and Mrs. Charles McLean, 2825 Sunset Drive, left yesterday for San Diego, Calif., where he will begin boot training as a U.S. Marine.

Miller, 17, enlisted in the Marine Corps in April under the Corps' extended service program at the Granite City recruiting station. He will serve in the military for the next four years.

The enlistee attended Granite City High School and was employed as a busboy at Charlie's Restaurant.

Sgt. McLean, a Marine Corps veteran of 21 years, presently is on a tour of duty in Japan.

The Miller youth also is a son of Jerry Miller, 2829 Oregon Ave.

Return home from Caribbean cruise

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kadanec, 2947 Madison Ave., have returned home after a nine-day Caribbean cruise aboard the TSS Mardi-Gras ocean liner.

They boarded the ship in Miami, Fla., and stopped in the Bahamas Islands where they toured Nassau and the straw market.

In Puerto Rico they visited San Juan and the El San Juan Hotel where they enjoyed an all-Russian ballet and casino.

Other highlights of the trip included a tour of the Virgin Islands and St. Thomas. Upon returning to Miami they visited Miami Beach, Coral Gables and Hialeah Park race track.

James Doyle's host out-of-town guests

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Schiavone and children, Lisa, Kimberly, Bobby, Ann and Scott, returned to their home in Louisville, Ky., Monday morning after a week's vacation here.

They were the houseguests of Mrs. Schiavone's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Doyle, 2240 Washington Ave. She is the former Colleen Doyle.

While here, the two families visited many points of interest in St. Louis and spent a day at Six Flags Over Mid-America.

YOUNG FISHERMAN.
Jim Franko who caught the largest fish in the Cub Scout fishing derby.

Pack 141 hosts fishing derby

Cub Pack 141 sponsored by the Mitchell School PTA hosted a fishing derby and picnic during the weekend at Woodland Park, Collinsville. Cubmaster Charles Smith presented trophies, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bladick, to Jim Franko for catching the largest fish; Keith Smith, second place, and Cliff Bladick, for the most fish caught during the day.

Jim Franko also received Webelos activities award pins for forester and outdoorsman badges, and Keith Smith earned the forester and geologist awards.

The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance by the Webelos. Charles Buford, den leader, presented the awards.

Parents of gifted meet

Parents of first through third grade students attending summer school for the gifted gathered at Niedringhaus School for an open house of classrooms and a meeting with Alan Crider, director of the gifted programs.

Highlights of the open house included a gymnastics performance, displays of terrariums, plants, and insect collections, child-size Indian Villages made by students, clay dinosaurs, math games, algebra and calculus demonstrations, and tours of the learning center.

The parents meeting focused on parental evaluation of the summer program with parents offering several suggestions for additional program choices for the 74-75 school year as well as for next summer.

Many parents raised questions regarding the identification methods used to admit students to the gifted program, the types of gifted programs and their implementation within the regular classroom, the source of funding for gifted programs, and how parents can support the concept and maintenance of gifted programs, both locally and statewide. Each of these questions will be answered at future meetings of parents during the school year.

Those interested in planning future parent meetings were invited to the home of Lois Fitter, 2916 Grand Ave. at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 6. Anyone interested in education for gifted and talented students, elementary or secondary level, were encouraged to attend.

Vacation school at New Bethel Baptist

The New Bethel Baptist Church, 2615 Marshall Ave., will hold its vacation Bible school on five evenings, starting Monday, at the church.

Classes will be conducted from 8:30 until 8:50 Monday through Friday, Aug. 5, according to the pastor, the Rev. Dewey Williams.

The program is open to youth of all ages from 3-year-olds through late teens, he said.

GETTING WET FOR CHARITY. Granite City firemen and volunteers washed numerous autos Saturday during the third annual firemen's benefit car wash. Proceeds will help build a new Salvation Army community center. From left are fire department pipemen Harrison Mullen, Mike Nesbit and Bob Daves. Lottery tickets moving fast

Illinois lottery tickets went on sale Tuesday and one week from today up to 25,000 holders of tickets whose numbers match those drawn at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield will pocket the lottery's first winnings. Tickets priced at 50 cents each went on sale Tuesday at 7,500 state lottery outlets in Illinois, including a number of sales points in the Quad-Cities. A break business in ticket sales was noted throughout the area Tuesday and yesterday. Some authorized ticket sellers ran out of tickets by midday Tuesday and requested additional supplies. State lottery officials are sticking to an original estimate of 6 million ticket sales this week, although 2 million additional tickets had to be printed after the first day of sales. Drawings will take place each Thursday at various points throughout the state. The Lottery Control Board has said it will accept invitations from communities to hold drawings in their areas. Carlton Zucker, chairman of the Illinois State Lottery Control Board, estimates revenue of about $150 million in the first fiscal year. The state is expected to keep about $60 million and an equal amount will go for prizes.

Downtown sales during weekend

The Downtown Merchants Association in Granite City will sponsor its two-day annual downtown sidewalk sale Friday and Saturday. Sales will begin at 9 a.m. both days with closing hours on Friday to be at 9 p.m. and on Saturday at 6 p.m., according to Rudy Novack, president of the Association.

Administration costs will take the remainder. Ticket agents receive 5 per cent of their sales as fees. Cars can be purchased from taverns, restaurants, service stations and grocery stores among others. Virtually anyone in the retail sales industry is eligible to sell lottery tickets as long as he has paid his retailers occupational tax. WHEN YOU NEED A REALTOR CALL REINHARDT

Firemen praise many who aided in car wash

Granite City firemen this week issued an open letter thanking the volunteers who aided during its weekend charity car wash. The text of the letter follows. "Last Saturday, July 27, we, Granite City Firefighters, held our third annual benefit car wash, with the proceeds donated to the Salvation Army to aid in the building of a new recreation center here in Granite City. The events, which were very successful, had made this car wash a very memorable one for the entire Fire Department. "On Tuesday, July 23, the president of our local, Ed J. Kover, lost his wife, and the funeral scheduled on Saturday, July 27, was postponed. A task that would have required considerable time more than the three days we had remaining prior to the car wash. So, in the interim, a call for volunteers to help us out was made. The response was tremendous and because of their effort, and their effort alone, the activity was a success. It is with a deep feeling of gratitude that this letter has been written, to thank individually those that gave so freely and willingly of their time and labor. "Paul Schuler, mayor of Granite City; Earl Baker, alderman, 6th Ward, Granite City; Don P. Foster, chief, Granite City Fire Department; Representing Roderick's softball team: Jerry Roderick, Warren Taylor, Larry Tedoroff, Jerry Rosenberg and Dave Chmians. "Representing Victory Tavern softball team: Sam Dymas, Tim Wallace and Joe Wallace. "Representing the Granite City Police Department: Ray

Koberna, Don Knight, Steve Willard, Jim Lengyel, Dave Rosenberg, and Officer Friendly, Glen Wright. "Other individuals who donated their time were: Louie Mank, Bell Jenkins, Steve Schard, Robbie Nunn, Tommy Nunn, Dallas Nunn, Sam Nesbit, Norman Sanders, Jerry Mathews, Jerry Mathews, Taylor Schmitz, Dru Schmitz, Stanley Holloway, Ray Romin IV, Bryan Schmidek, Jim Smith, and last but certainly not least, four young ladies, Peggy Smolich, Cheryl Joseph, Pat Maynor and Rachel Breeze. "We would also like to extend a special thanks to Roderick's Catering Service who donated food to all those that worked and to all those who donated to the car wash. "We would also like to extend a special thanks to Roderick's Catering Service who donated food to all those that worked and to all those who donated to the car wash. Port issue deferred

A "memorandum of understanding" on port development, which could be the first step toward giving increased power to the Bi-State Development Agency in overseeing development on both sides of the Mississippi River, was deferred for at least one month by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council Board of Directors yesterday. Board Chairman Lawrence K. Roos, supervisor of St. Louis County, told the East-West Board that the council's Port Development Task Force had requested more time to study the document before making a recommendation to the East-West board. "The task force's subcommittee has met several times on the issue, but it has not been discussed by the full task force. Roos suggested the task force's wishes be honored and the issue was deferred until a task force recommendation is received. The vote to defer was unanimous.

Mark Magyar in reserve training

Mark W. Magyar, son of Mrs. Ann Magyar, 2125 Manley Ave., is attending a U.S. Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps field training encampment at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio. During the encampment, cadets receive survival and small arms training and air craft and aircrew indoctrination. They also have the opportunity to observe careers in which they might wish to serve as Air Force officers. The cadet is a student at Bradley University. Cadet Magyar is a 1973 graduate of Granite City Senior High School.

APARTMENT 'RANSACKED'
The apartment of Mrs. Doris Oglin, 3307 Kirkpatrick Homes, was entered after a screen was cut and the glass was removed from a west side door, and the unit was ransacked, it was reported Monday. It was not known if anything was stolen.

Nameoki trash pickups

Nameoki Township will begin a regular program of trash and limb collections with the first regularly scheduled pickups taking place Monday.

The program, operated by the township highway department, using federal revenue sharing funds, actually started last month with tree limb pickups throughout the township. Monday, a program similar to one used last year will go into effect with alternating pickups of trash and limbs each two weeks.

The program will begin with a two-week schedule of trash pickups for items too large for regular trash collectors to take, including appliances, barrels and other items. A two-week series starting Aug. 19, then will collect three limbs on a regular basis by precincts.

Trash collections will begin Monday in Nameoki Precinct 5 and will continue Tuesday in Pct. 3, Wednesday in Pct. 11, Thursday in Pct. 6 and Friday in Pct. 7.

Monday, Aug. 12, trash collections will be made in Pct. 4; Tuesday, Aug. 13, in Pct. 9; Wednesday, Aug. 14, in Pct. 2; Thursday, Aug. 15, in Pct. 10; and Friday, Aug. 16, in Pct. 1. No collections will take place on weekends.

Limb collections will begin Monday, Aug. 19, using the same rotations of precincts with Precincts 5, 3, 11, 6 and 7 having trash collected on subsequent days the first week and Pcts. 4, 9, 2 and 10 having collections the following Monday through Thursday, Aug. 26 to 29. Precincts 1 and 8 will have collections Friday, Aug. 30. The rotation then will begin again for trash pickups on Monday, Sept. 2 and will continue on the every two week rotation until funds expire. The Nameoki Town Board has appropriated $35,000 for trash and limb collections from revenue sharing under an environmental cleanup program. The program also provides for the cleaning of street gutters and catch basins.

News notes

The House Judiciary Committee adopted a third article of impeachment against President Richard M. Nixon Tuesday night, ending its impeachment investigation. The committee rejected two articles. The articles will be sent to the full House of Representatives in about two weeks to set in motion the congressional impeachment machinery that has not been used against a President since 1868.

John D. Erlichman, former top domestic advisor to President Nixon, was sentenced Wednesday to 20 months to five years for conspiracy in the Ellsberg break-in case. The sentence by U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell was the steepest to be given in any Watergate-related case since the original conspirators were sentenced in March 1973.

Gene Eidenberg, chairman of the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission, said this week that approximately $50 million in federal grants for local law enforcement projects have been approved because of a new legislature itemized by project.

Federal funds and a matching Illinois grant to finance the purchase of 30 new air-conditioned buses has been awarded the Bi-State Transit System. The new buses, scheduled for delivery in March, will cost $2.2 million. The local share of $663,237 will be provided by Illinois through Series B transportation bonds.

Major oil companies are pressing for increased gasoline sales and as a result another shortage can be expected next winter, according to Jerry Kroll, president of the Missouri Service Station Dealers Association.

Beverly Francis shower honoree

A kitchen shower was given for Beverly Francis last week by Pat Sedig and Vicki Piel in the recreation room at Barnes Hospital School of Nursing. The honoree is a student nurse.

Miss Francis will be married on Sept. 21 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church to Michael Mott III. Various games were played and prizes were awarded to the winners, followed by the guest of honor opening her gifts.

Guests attending were Nancy Henderson, Sarah Jane Kaitshak, Mrs. Thompson, Alice Ferrere, Toni Stout, Beverly Stahlut, Edna Rensing, Debbie Harold, Jo Ingram, Linda Gorrells, Jennette Downing, Karen Smith, Elyne Hermes, Mrs. Jackie Francis, Margaret Austin and Denise Howard.

Roundup tonight at GC park rink

Youngsters who have attended the Granite City Park District's summer recreational series at 10 local playground centers will join forces at 7:30 tonight at Wilson Park rink for a special "Round Up" program.

Mrs. Helen Bjorkman, summer recreational director, said this evening's activities will be highlighted with the annual watermelon eating contest and an awards ceremony honoring the champion and runners-up teams in the playground softball tournament.

Entertainment will be provided by groups representing each playground center and the pre-school youngsters, the director said.

Team trophies and individual ribbons will be presented to members of the first, second and third place softball tournament winners, Mrs. Bjorkman reported.

During a playoff held last week at Wilson Park, the Webster Grade School Warriors captured first place for the second straight summer by defeating Wilson School 8-2 and then Logan School 18-2 for the city championship.

Webster, entered the playoff with a 10-0 season record in Division Three competition. Wilson headed the Division One (large enrollment schools), and Logan topped its Division Two opponents.

Winners in weekly tournaments and novelty contests at the individual playground centers, include:

Marshall School: "Beauty and the Beast Day"—Keith Shable, Mr. Beas and Kathy Carlisle, Miss Beauty; Rhonda Crouch, Christie Loyel, Jenny Marler and Beth Smith, honorable mention. Croquet tournament—Angie Handon and Keith Shable, first; Kathy Carlisle and Dave Paz, second; and Tim Paz, third (midgates); Tina Sedabres and Jeff Staglier, first; Ann Schreiber and Mark Wilson, second; and Pat Black, third (juniors).

Logan School: "Variety day"—Charlie Collins, best costume; Mike Grizzard, most original; Donny Jones, funniest; Paula Brown, cutest; and Sherry Wingerter, best designed costume.

Niedringhaus School: "Best All-Around Citizen Day"—Glenn Edwards, over all playground best citizen; Danny Talley, mite citizen; Dawn Deterding, midget citizen; and Tim Dix, junior citizen.

McKinley School: Croquet tournament—Veda Bolin, first; Cheryl Basan, second; Ricky Brooks, third; and Dennis Grimm, most outstanding hit. Bean bag toss—Lisa Nelson, Carmon Bolin, second; and Angela Motes, third (midgates); Mary Nelson and John Arnett, first; Darla Boyce and Bob Stevens, second; and Cheryl Basan and Ricky Brooks, third (juniors).

Webster School: Wally Fenton, first; and Karen Reeves, second, whistling contest.

GC roller skaters take honors

Two Granite City girls won first place honors at the Illinois-Wisconsin Bi-State Roller Skating Championships held at the Fun Spot Skating Rink in Belleville.

Cindy Snider captured the first place trophy in the novice ladies figure skating event and Cindy Yurock won first place honors in the tiny tot girls freestyle competition.

Others placing in various events were Erna Meyer, Tracy Spence, Kathy Strunk, Cheryl Langreder and Pam Bullard.

Also participating in the bi-state championships were Lisa Bullard, Lisa Bug, Lynda Bug, Mindi Clover, Shawndell Coltran, John Grisano, John, Kay and Linda Italiano, Michelle Langreder, Janie May, Clara and Natalie Ruth, Pam Schmerbauch, Steve Truccano and Larry Weiss. All train and practice at the Moonlight Roller Rink in Troy.

Skaters who will advance to the regional championships, to be held in Detroit, Mich., are Erna Meyer in Esquire ladies figures and Cindy Yurock and Kathy Strunk in tiny tot girls freestyle event.

SKATING CHAMPIONS. Granite City roller skaters, Cindy Snider, left, who won first place in the novice ladies figure skating event, and Cindy Yurock, winner of the tiny tot girls freestyle competition, display their trophies earned at the Illinois-Wisconsin Bi-State roller skating championships in Belleville. Judges 4-H cat show

Mrs. David Taylor of the Willow Walk Cattery, 148 Central Ave., Mitchell, again served as judge during the cat show segment of the 4-H contests at the Madison County fair at Lindendale Park, Highland.

This is the third year that area 4-H clubs have sponsored a program of cat care which culminates in the annual cat show. Participation has increased each year with the number of entries tripling since the initial show, Mrs. Taylor said.

The local cat fancier and breeder reported all cats entered by the 4-H members were in top condition. Not a single entry was faulted due to lack of grooming or general health conditions, attesting to the devotion and care given the cats by their youthful owners, she said.

Mrs. Sue Cox, 4016 Rode Ave., assisted Mrs. Taylor in the judging.

Pere Marquette contracts let

Contracts totaling $121,394 have been awarded by the Illinois Capital Development Board for improvements to sewage treatment facilities at Pere Marquette State Park, near Grafton in Jersey County, Conservation Director Tony Dean announced.

Contract recipients include: Kane Plumbing, Heating and Air Conditioning, Inc., of Wood River, $85,625 for plumbing work; Jersey County Construction Service, Jerseyville, $36,834, for general construction; and Wegman Electric Co., Wood River, $935, for electrical work.

Dean said the project involves replacement of portions of an existing sewage treatment facility, and the addition of cast iron force main, post chlorination facilities and a sand filter bed to provide secondary and tertiary treatment of effluent. The improvements will enable the sewage system to more consistently meet EPA effluent quality criteria for the Illinois River, into which the treated sewage flows.

Estimated completion time is approximately 120 working days.

Changes at 'Y' being noticed

"The re-decorating of the Tri City Area YMCA is continuing slowly but surely," Harold Rudolph, executive director, announced today.

"Facilitating a proud 50-year-old building is a long term task," commented Rudolph. The new ceiling, lighting, and wall covering in the lobby have already improved the area to the point where it is a much more pleasant and inviting atmosphere, he explained.

The redecorating is being directed by Alice Baugh, decorator for Lombardi's Paints & Interiors, Inc. The Granite City Rotary Club, Optimist Club, Carpenters District Council, Senior Citizens and other individuals have contributed funds or volunteered labor.

"We still have a lot of work to do," said Rudolph, and the "Y" board of directors is committed to maintain the "Y" in its present location so we must move ahead to get it completed."

The "Y" Window Project with a boost from the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce is gaining support. The need to improve the outward appearance of the "Y" is obvious and with 217 windows in the building it is a big task, he commented.

FORD'S 1975-MODEL CARS will be priced at an average $418 higher at retail than 1974 models, and planned optional-equipment changes will increase retail prices even more. Ford didn't give the boost as a percentage but said it reflects an 8% across-the-board rise in prices charged dealers. American Motors separately lifted some 1974-model car prices 1.5% to 2.8%.

Ford Plans Boost In '75 Car Prices Averaging $418

AMC Lifts Its Prices on '74s; Ford Rise Doesn't Include Planned Option Changes

By a WALL STREET JOURNAL Staff Reporter
DETROIT—Ford Motor Co. said it plans to increase the average retail price of its 1975 cars by $418 from 1974 models, fulfilling promises of substantial price boosts in the new model year.
Ford didn't say what percentage increase the $418 represented, but did say it reflects an across-the-board rise of 8% in the prices it charges its dealers. These prices, called "advanced billing prices," are now to be used by dealers in advance of the official introduction of the cars in September. The boost doesn't include some planned changes in the optional equipment package, which will have the effect of increasing retail prices still further.

PLAN CAR WASH

Granite City Explorer Post 2001 will conduct a fund-raising car wash at the Shell Service Station, Nameoki and Johnson Roads, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. tomorrow. Proceeds will help finance Post 2001's space exploration study and other planned programs.

Accept cadet applications

The United States Coast Guard Academy has announced that it is now accepting and processing applications for appointment as Cadet, U.S. Coast Guard, Class of 1979. Appointments to the Coast Guard Academy are tendered solely on the basis of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas. Applications for appointment must be submitted to the Director of Admissions, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, prior to Dec. 15. Candidates must arrange to participate in the College Entrance Examination Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) prior to or including the Dec. 7 administration.

The competition for appointment as cadet is based on the candidate's high school rank, his performance on the SAT, and his leadership potential as demonstrated by his participation in high school, extracurricular activities, community affairs or part-time employment.

Most successful candidates rank in the top quarter of their high school class and demonstrate proficiency in both the mathematical and applied science fields.

To qualify for the competition, an applicant must be unmarried and must have reached his 17th birthday by July 1, 1973. All applicants must be assured of high school graduation by June 30, 1975.

Applicants must have completed three units in English, and three in mathematics including algebra and plane or coordinate geometry or their equivalents, and must fulfill the basic physical and moral requirements.

Coast Guard cadets obtain an excellent undergraduate education at no personal cost. In addition, they receive pay and allowances fully adequate to fulfill their ordinary living expenses. The constantly updated academy curriculum offers nine majors which include: electrical, civil, ocean and marine engineering; marine science, mathematical sciences, physical sciences; management; and government.

These areas of academic interest, combined with the varied elective courses, establish a solid foundation for a challenging career. Graduates of the academy are awarded a bachelor of science degree and are commissioned as ensign in the United States Coast Guard. Selected officers may pursue further postgraduate education and specialized training in many leading civilian and military graduate or professional schools in such fields as aviation, business administration, electronics, engineering, law, and oceanography.

Applications and additional information may be obtained by writing Director of Admissions, United States Coast Guard Academy, New London, Connecticut, 06320.

Urges levee separation

Separation of the Quad-City area from the East Side Levee and Sanitary District must be the ultimate goal of taxpayers in the area, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler told a meeting of the Optimist Club in the Quad-City area. The mayor told club members that most taxes paid into the district are spent in St. Clair County.

Mayor Schuler said there is a need for "stronger civic pride in Granite City."

He said that having a float at the Illinois State fair will help let people know Granite City exists.

He said that nowhere on Interstate-270 is there a sign showing the distance to Granite City and he has written to Springfield seeking to have this information posted.

Optimist President David Fox presented a check for $500 to Harold Rudolph, director of the YMCA, and a $1,000 check to E. Ray Grisham, president of the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council.

Optimist Carl Eschenbrenner had his father Daniel Eschenbrenner as a guest and Optimist Mike Tharp had as his guest Robert Stout of the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

Smith post to Evans

Telbert L. Evans, 36, has been appointed manager of the new plant for A. O. Smith Corporation's Automotive Division, it was announced by David Stieber, vice-president and general manager.

Evans comes to A. O. Smith from the Bendix Corporation, Soufield, Mich., where he had been corporate purchasing manager. Prior to that, he was a senior procurement administrator at Honeywell, Inc., Minneapolis, Minn., from Oct. 1968, to November 1971.

An Iowa native, he was born in Red Oak and raised in Pacific Junction, Iowa. He is a 1964 graduate of Iowa State University, where he majored in industrial administration and has studied purchasing at Michigan State University and Harvard University.

Before entering college, he served in the U.S. Air Force from 1956 to 1960. Evans is a member of the National Association of Purchasing Management. He and his wife, the former Marilyn Ann Farrow, who is a native of Banquet, Iowa, are the parents of one child, Christine Ann, 6 years.

A. O. Smith's Automotive Division is the world's largest manufacturer of automobile and truck frames. Sales in the division in 1973 totaled $315 million.

A. O. Smith, with its subsidiaries, is a widely diversified manufacturer of electric motors, meter systems, auto and truck frames, agricultural feed storage and handling systems, water heating equipment, elevators and other products.

A loss of $100 was reported when a compressor caught fire at the home of Gloria Fabe, 629 Adams St., during the weekend.

Madison gains fame for painted fire hydrants

Mrs. Mary Bucherich, 1603 Elizabeth St., Madison reported that while visiting in Zagreb, Yugoslavia, she purchased a copy of the International Herald Tribune, dated July 6, 1974, and saw pictures of four Madison fire hydrants which had been painted to resemble cartoon and comic characters.

Residents of Madison have reported friends from almost every state have sent newspapers containing shots of the painted fire hydrants.

The overseas edition of Stars and Stripes also carried a feature article on the Madison fire plugs.

Fire Chief Eldon Rhoads said that the fire department will hold an official judging contest soon and have a party for the children that painted the hydrants.

Mrs. Shirley Green, 1546 Sixth St., Madison, has coordinated the program that has now branched out to painting trash cans.

School children volunteer their time to paint and the city buys the paint.

PLANT DAMAGED
A fire at 11:40 p.m. Friday, at the former Union Starch Co. plant at 20th Street and Missouri Avenue, resulted in minor damage to wooden rafters. Three Granite City fire trucks were on the scene for 45 minutes. The blaze reportedly started when sparks from workers cutting steel ignited cross beams.

Cyclist hurt

James Daugherty, 22, of 5009 Lewis St., was injured when he rode his motorcycle across the closed Chain of Rocks Bridge toward St. Louis and struck a welded crossbar over the roadway during the weekend.

Friends said Daugherty said he was going to ride across the bridge and he did not return. An unknown motorcycle rider came across to the Chouteau Island side and told Daugherty's friends that Daugherty had an accident on the St. Louis side.

The friends found him on the pavement with injuries to his face and neck. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted with a broken jaw, a cut beneath his chin, abrasions to his face and left elbow and a neck injury.

TOOL SHED IS LOOTED

Two tool boxes and tools and a set of wrenches were stolen from a storage shed behind the home of Emile Raymond, 2408 Elm Ave., it was reported at 4:50 p.m. Friday. Entry to the shed was gained by breaking a window in the door and reaching through to unlock the door.

Price praises Senate call for economy 'summit meet'

Congressman Melvin Price (Dem., 23rd Ill.) has praised a Senate resolution calling for a "domestic summit" to develop a unified plan of action to restore stability and prosperity to the American economy.

The resolution, passed by the Senate on Tuesday, provides that the summit meeting would include the President, specified Congressional leaders, the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, and labor and business leaders.

"Such a meeting could lead to the kind of comprehensive program we need to revitalize the economy," said Cong. Price. "Predictions on the economy continue to be unfavorable, and I think it's time we tried a new approach."

"Most Americans see rising prices and unemployment as the most important issues of the day," he said. "The state of the economy is crucial because it directly affects everyone."

"The most important aspect of the resolution is that it calls for development of a plan of action," said the Congressman. "All the summits in the past will lead nowhere if a plan is not developed and implemented."

"If a summit is approached with a spirit of bipartisanship and unity, it could bring a great deal of progress."

Cong. Price said he would support a House version of the resolution.

"Cong. Price has urged the House of Representatives to pass his bill for strengthening Congressional review of nuclear energy cooperation agreements such as those President Nixon recently proposed with Egypt and Israel."

Price, chairman of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, said "the present authority of the Congress is not clear." The existing law provides that agreements must be considered for 30 days by the Joint Committee, but he said, it "is silent as to Congressional remedies."

The Price bill would require a 60-day review of nuclear agreements involving power reactors with a capacity of more than five thermal megawatts. The key section of the bill provides that a current resolution of disfavor by both Houses legally would bar execution of a proposed agreement.

Although "there has been no evidence of unlawful diversions or unwarranted use of special nuclear material under existing agreements," Cong. Price said the Joint Committee "considered it prudent to provide an adequate, clear-cut mechanism for responsible Congressional participation in these sensitive nuclear areas."

The Senate has unanimously passed an identical bill.

Cong. Price announced that farmers in St. Clair County who sustained damage to or loss of their fruit crop — mainly peaches and apples — because of freezing temperatures March 17 to 31, 1974, may be eligible for emergency loans through the Farmers Home Administration.

Emergency loans are made to farmers to cover losses resulting from designated disasters. Applications for emergency assistance may be filed with the FHA office at 415 East Main Street, Belleville, Ill. 62220.

The FHA has authorized loans for physical losses until Sept. 16, 1974, and for production losses until April 18, 1975. Loans are repayable in their entirety at an interest rate of 5 per cent.

Cong. Price was among members of the House Democratic Caucus who approved a procedure for selecting members of their party to sit on the new Budget Committee.

The congressman was a co-sponsor of the accepted plan, which consists of three fundamental procedures: (1) Nomination by petition signed by five members other than the nominee; (2) election of each category of Budget Committee members by ballot; and (3) election of the chairman by direct caucus vote immediately following election of all 14 Democratic members of the Committee.

The categories of members are: Three members of the Appropriations Committee, three members of the Ways and Means Committee, seven members of other committees, and one leadership member.

Seniority will not be a factor in selection of members of the committee, and no member will be permitted to serve during more than two Congresses in any period of five successive Congresses beginning after 1974.

The Budget Committee is a standing House Committee created by a comprehensive budget reform law passed earlier this year.

The committee will have jurisdiction in four general areas: (1) The establishment of an overall limitation on budget outlays, and an overall limitation on new budget authority; (2) the determination of the overall level of Federal revenues, and the overall level of the public debt; (3) determination of the appropriate level of surplus or deficit in the budget in light of economic conditions; and (4) the allocation of the overall limitation on budget outlays, and the overall limitation on new budgetary authority.

Northrup is national project director of the National Retired Teachers Assn. and the American Association of Retired Persons. Others, left to right, are Mrs. John Kendall, president of the Edwardsville Senior Citizens Club of Belleville, consultant, Division of Field Services, Department of Aging; and William Tudor, chairman of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville planning committee on aging and a 31-member volunteer administrative council for the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging.

SIUE employment project

Plans are near completion for a $156,000 Senior Community Employment Project at Edwardsville, according to William J. Tudor, chairman of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville planning committee on aging.

At a meeting last week on the SIUE campus, Glenn L. Northrup, national project director of the National Retired Teachers Association and the American Association of Retired Persons, sponsors of the Senior Community Employment Project, outlined a program for Edwardsville.

"The final decision is mine," Northrup said, "and I am 90 per cent sure I am going to ok this money." Northrup explained that there is $10 million in the national fund for this senior citizen's program, with $510,000 designated for Illinois. The program is funded by the U.S. Department of Labor.

"Prime mover in getting the money for Edwardsville is Dr. Tudor," Northrup said. Tudor is chairman of a 31-member volunteer administrative council for the Southwestern Illinois Area Agency on Aging.

Scheiblauber to Amsted post

L. J. Scheiblauber has been appointed to the newly-created post of assistant chief engineer for Griffin Wheel Co., a Chicago-based division of AMSTED Industries and the nation's largest producer of railroad wheels.

Louis E. Swiderski was named to succeed Scheiblauber as superintendent of the company's Bessemer, Ala., wheel plant.

Scheiblauber joined Griffin in 1964 as a plant engineer at the company's Chicago headquarters. After holding various engineering positions, he was appointed senior engineer in 1966. Transferred to Griffin's Bessemer plant in early 1967, he became superintendent there on June 1, the same year.

In his new post, Scheiblauber will be based at Griffin's Chicago general office. He is a 1946 engineering graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology.

An 18-year veteran with Griffin, Swiderski joined the company in 1956 in the melting department at its Chicago plant. He was transferred to the Bessemer plant in 1966 as melting foreman, became general foreman in 1968, and assistant plant superintendent in 1969.

In addition to Bessemer, Griffin has railroad wheel plants at Bensenville, Ill.; Kansas City, Kan.; Colton, Calif. Another AMSTED operation, Griffin Steel Foundries Ltd., also has two railroad wheel plants in Canada. AMSTED also operates American Steel Foundries in Granite City.

Lions Governor to visit Madison club

District 1-G Lion Governor Ralph R. Rutherford will make an official visit to the Madison Lions Club Thursday, Oct. 31, it was announced by Lion P. resident Andy Economy at the club's regular meeting in the Sportsman's club, Tenth and Iowa Streets, Madison.

Governor Rutherford, Carlinville, Ill., sponsored with 53 Lions clubs in west central Illinois.

Lion David Clark, a member of the Madison club and zone one chairman of region 3, announced that Deputy District Governor Mel Schubart of Region 3 and other Lion dignitaries will accompany Governor Rutherford.

Chairman Clark reviewed the club's district contest that will run from Sept. 1, 1974, to Sept. 30, 1974.

until Mar. 31, 1975. Clark said that due to the efforts of Jim Riskovsky, club secretary, the Madison Lions was one of the few clubs in the district that had their reports in on time and in the contest.

Items the clubs will be judged on are membership and retention, donations to Lions-sponsored programs for the blind, extension of Lionism through organizing new clubs and youth programs and at-large projects.

Lion James Perdue, chairman of the building committee, reported that he had received no new offers since last week to purchase the Sportsman's club.

Venice city budget drops

The Venice City Council Friday night adopted a 1974-75 operating budget of $1,408,404, a decrease of $128,176 below last year's total appropriation of $1,536,582.

The new budget projects expenditures of $1,038,404 for general operating costs and appropriations an additional $370,000 for the city's share of the Broadway relocation project which is now under way. Last year's operating budget amounted to $1,038,404 and an appropriation of $500,000 for the Broadway relocation project for the total budget figure of $1,538,522 for all purposes.

Major decreases in the new budget included the $175,000 cut in the appropriation for the Broadway relocation job, and the elimination of any budget item for city hall improvements. Last year's budget included a $154,000 item for remodeling of the city hall, an item that was not carried over into this year's budget bill.

A reduction of $5,196 was made in the new budget for street and alley purposes which was set at $115,826. Last year's street and alley appropriation was $121,022.

Budget items were increased for most of the city departments. The police department received the largest budget increase from $191,150 to $246,115, up $54,965. This increase includes salary raises, cost of supplies, holiday pay and time and a half for overtime. The environmental budget was increased $17,000, from $10,000 last year to $27,000 in the new budget.

This money comes from federal funds and not local tax money.

Other budget items increased were: fees, salaries and expenses of city officers, up $11,225, from $58,532 to $69,757; department of law, up $655 from $10,550 to $11,205; insurance, up $860, from $43,290 to $44,150; printing, up $800 from $1,450 to $2,250.

Sanitary and health, up $958 from $9,472 to $10,430; sewers, up $30,000 from $120,000 to $150,000; city hall, up $4,226, from $12,820 to $17,046; audit of books and records, up $125 from $675 to $800.

Light and lighting, up $1,000 from $10,000 to $11,000; summer recreation program, up $500, from $7,250 to $7,750; sidewalks, up $400 from $700 to $1,100; fire department, up $8,353 from $66,771 to $75,124; garbage collection, up $36,940 from $89,653 to $126,593 (new equipment); police pension fund, up $10,400 from $40,318 to $50,718; public library, up $15,451, from $50,876 to $66,327; Illinois Municipal Retirement fund, up $13,000 from $29,000 to $42,000; city defense, up $502, from $2,918 to $3,420.

Items remaining the same as last year are contingent fund, $7,500; water $50, and planning and zoning $1,500.

Price supports transatlantic flight request

Congressman Melvin Price (D., 2nd Ill.) has notified the Civil Aeronautics Board of his support for designation of St. Louis as a transatlantic terminal. This designation, if approved by the CAB, will permit direct air travel between the St. Louis area and Europe.

In a letter to CAB Chairman Robert D. Timm, Cong. Price said he supported a statement submitted to the CAB by the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority. That statement emphasizes the metropolitan area's importance as an air passenger hub, an economic development gateway, and a transportation center.

The statement proposed a St. Louis-London-Frankfurt-Rome route, and outlined the St. Louis area's potential for transatlantic air cargo and passenger traffic.

Cong. Price called to the CAB's attention the application pending with the Department of Transportation for approval of a new regional airport at Champaign-Waterloo, Ill. "The availability of this new facility in the future is an additional reason for the designation of St. Louis as a transatlantic terminal," he said.

Also signing the letter were Senator Adlai Stevenson III, Senator Charles Perot, Congressman Kenneth Gray, and Congressman Paul Shipley.

MAC DAVIS

ANNE MURRAY

Mac Davis, Anne Murray at MRF tomorrow night

Tomorrow night will be family night at the Mississippi River Festival with popular singers and television stars Mac Davis and Anne Murray appearing under the tent.

The performance, as all MRF shows, begins at 8:30 p.m. on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Following a year of teaching physical education in Canada, she switched to show business. One of Miss Murray's first recording efforts, "Snowbird," became a hit in Canada and received a gold record in the U.S.

Miss Murray became a regular on the Glen Campbell Show.

She has made guest appearances on the Tonight Show, Redd Foxx, and others. Her recent hit records are "You Won't See Me" and "He Thinks I Still Care."

Texas Mac Davis, a singer, poet and musician, has written songs that are known all over the world.

Among his hit compositions are "Daddy's Little Man," "Watching Scotty Grow," "I Believe in Music," and "Baby, Don't Get Hooked on Me."

Thursday evenings at 7, Mac Davis can be seen on his new NBC-TV series, "The Mac Davis Show."

For the Davis-Murray concert, lawn seats priced at $3 are available.

Tickets for all other listed performances, priced from $1 to $4, are available at all MRF box offices and at the Festival site.

Classical events, featuring the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, directed by Walter Susskind, will continue Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Three Bogart films, Joni Mitchell, War, and a night of country and western music are scheduled at the MRF next week.

Next in the weekly film series at MRF is an evening of Humphrey Bogart American Classics Monday, "The Maltese Falcon" features Bogey as Sam Spade in one of the best private eye films ever made.

In "Casablanca," Ingrid Bergman and Peter Lorre join Bogart in a melodrama of love and intrigue. "The African Queen" is the story of the triple threat featuring Bogart in his Academy Award winning performance with co-star Katharine Hepburn. Tickets for the films are $2.00 for general admission.

Mitchell makes her second appearance at the festival on Tuesday evening. Appearing with her will be Tom Scott and The L. A. Express, a group of studio musicians with classical training which includes Scott on reeds and woodwinds, and Mervyn Evans on drums; Max Bennett on bass; Roger Kellaway on electric piano and Robin Ford on guitar.

Miss Mitchell, 30, was born in McLeod, Alberta, Canada, and originally intended to become a commercial artist. She took along a ukulele to earn money while enrolled in the Alberta College of Art and discovered that she enjoyed singing more than painting. She appeared in clubs in Detroit then went to New York where Reprise Records discovered and signed her. Her new album is "Court and Spark" recorded with Tom Scott and The L. A. Express.

Mac comes to Edwardsville on Wednesday. In the last two years, it has become one of the most successful rock recording groups in the country. Originally the band (a group of musicians from the same Los Angeles neighborhood) was known as the Night Shift. The group teamed with Eric Burdon and recorded their first single, "Spill The Wine" which was an immediate smash.

It led to the albums, "Eric Burdon Declares War" and "Black Man's Burdon," on the United Artists label. War's platinum album, "The World Is A Ghetto," was chosen Billboard's Number One pop album of 1973.

Friday, Aug. 9, is Country Western Night at the Mississippi River Festival. Tom T. Hall, Melba Montgomery and The Hagers combine their talents in a night of Nashville sounds.

At least one song written by Hall has been on country music's national popularity charts every week for more than eight years. It was his song, "Harper Valley P.T.A.," that brought him to national prominence in 1968 when it was recorded by Jeannie C. Riley.

Hall himself plays guitar and sings in a church choir and learned to play guitar and fiddle. After winning a talent contest in Nashville, he became a member of Roy Acuff's Smokey Mountain Boys.

She went to Nashville in 1962 and her recent Elektra Records include "Wrap Your Love Around Me," "He'll Come Home," and "No Charge."

The Hager twins — Jim and Jon — are from Chicago. Jon plays rhythm instruments while Jim plays guitar and both mix their talent for music with flair for comedy and wit. Since their success as performers in the TV series "Hee Haw," their careers have been climbing upward.

The Hagers perform country, folk, pop, rock and contemporary jazz and blues. Their versatility is displayed in their Barnaby Rudge album "The Hagers, Music On The Country."

NEW EAGLE SCOUT. Michael Dale Langston, receives the Eagle Scout badge, the Boy Scouts of America's highest rank, from M. Leroy Johnson, council executive, Council No. 308, Boy Scouts of America, Springfield, Mo. The scout's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Langston, also were honored. The presentation took place at the St. Paul Methodist Church, Thayer, Mo. Michael presented his mother with a miniature eagle pin and a single long stem, red rose. The Langston family formerly lived in Granite City.

Michael Dale Langston earns Eagle Scout rank

Michael Dale Langston, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Langston, Mammoth Springs, Ark., formerly of Granite City, was presented the Eagle Scout badge in Court of Honor ceremonies at the St. Paul Methodist Church, Thayer, Mo.

He is the great-grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dickerson, 3113 Willow Ave., Granite City, and the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Michaels of Granite City.

During the ceremonies, Michael presented his mother with a miniature Eagle pin and a single red rose. He joined Troop 110 under the leadership of Scoutmasters Paul Schuster and "Uncle" Ned Stratton in September 1971 and became Tenderfoot on Dec. 6, 1971.

He continued his climb up the Scouting ladder, earning Second Class on April 24, 1972, then First Class on Dec. 18, 1972.

Working on merit badges and skill awards, he was awarded the Star Scout badge April 18, 1973, and Life Scout rank Oct. 18, 1973. Langston then earned the required merit badges and skill awards for Eagle and has a total of 37 merit badges and nine skill awards.

He earned the God and Country award in April 1974 and was presented this award by Rev. Paul J. Young at the Thayer Assembly of God Church, Thayer, Mo., where Mike attends.

He served as librarian, patrol leader in 1972, and presently is senior patrol leader. He is an active member of Osage Lodge, Order of the Arrow.

While a Cub Scout, he was a member of Pack 166, Mammoth Springs.

The Rev. Paul J. Young, gave the invocation and benediction. M. Leroy Johnson, council scout executive, Council No. 308, Boy Scouts of America of Springfield, Mo., made the Eagle badge presentation, and John Murrell of West Plains, Mo., was the speaker.

Local students honored at WIU

One-thousand four-hundred and eighty-seven undergraduate students at Western Illinois University have been cited for their scholastic achievement during the spring quarter.

Among them were Katherine Ann Lore, 3001 Edgewood Ave., a sophomore, and Regina Grace Theis, 2432 Delmar Ave., a senior.

They are being honored for compiling a quarterly grade-point average of 3.5 or better, based on 4.0 equals straight A. Students must attempt at least 12 quarter hours for a letter grade to be eligible; pass-fail hours are not counted in the compilation as hours attempted.

VENICE SR. CITIZENS TAKE DAY BUS TRIP
Forty-five members of the Venice Senior Citizen Club and a guest, Mrs. Kate Buncie, chartered a bus last week for a day long trip.

The first stop by the group was made at Fort Chartres, followed with a picnic lunch at the Kaskaskia State Park and a tour of Pierre Menard home in Chester, Ill.

The fourth-grade beginners performed the Suzuki Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star variations and the advanced students presented "Etude, Allegretto, Perpetual Motion, May Song and The Bach III, II and I series.

The reading orchestra played Au Clair de la Lune, The Snowman and Jolly Little String Quartet. A duet also was performed by Miss Mean and Christie Devine.

Summer school students participating were Beth Robinson, Becky Robinson, Greg Mason, Juli Astorian, Christie Devine, Traci Basden, Bev Tester, Carla Cunningham, Sherri Clinard, Rhonda Broadwater, Sheryl Kurtz, Jae Lynn Rainwater, Randy Dunn, Leah Lombardi and Terri Roberson.

The summer school students were joined by three Suzuki students, David Cooper, Kelli Basden and Beth Anne Dunn.

Roger Hamilton on Navy cruise

Navy Gunner's Mate Third Class Roger Hamilton, husband of the former Miss Lisa A. Todd, 2612 Delmar Ave. has returned to the Naval Base, Norfolk, Va., after a six-month Mediterranean cruise aboard the destroyer USS Basilone.

While embarked, he participated in NATO exercise "Dawn Patrol," which included armed forces from 11 allied nations in maneuvers designed to test NATO's capabilities in anti-submarine warfare, air defense, amphibious assaults and surveillance.

Hamilton also took part in "Dale Falcon," another NATO exercise conducted in the Aegean Sea, and included ships and aircraft from Great Britain, Greece, Italy and Turkey, with the Basilone representing the United States. He visited several Mediterranean countries during the cruise, including Spain, France, Greece and Italy.

THE RUGGED SANGRE DE CRISTO MOUNTAINS will offer "high" adventure for local Explorers and Leadership Corps members who are to leave Monday for two weeks of "high adventure" at the Philmont Scout Ranch in northeast New Mexico.

High adventure group to leave GC Monday

At 8 a.m. Monday, a bus loaded with 39 Leadership Corps members, Explorers and adult leaders will leave from the Granite City Park District ice rink parking lot and head for two weeks of "high adventure" at the Philmont Scout Ranch in northeast New Mexico. The ranch covers 214 square miles, 137,483 acres of deep forest and sweeping plains; with the Sangre de Cristo mountains offering a real challenge to the adventurous. The group will do backpacking, fishing in mountain streams, and at times will push and pull a stubborn burro. In addition to being on part PHILMONT SCOUT RANCH in New Mexico is a working ranch, not a dude ranch, with 500 head of Hereford cattle, 250 saddle horses and 180 burros which often may prove a challenge to the local Explorers and Scouts who will leave for the ranch Monday morning. Philmont also has a herd of over 150 American buffaloes.

the famous Santa Fe Trail, they will learn about such famous weapons as the Kentucky Long rifle and even fire them.

The Explorers also may pan for gold in the streams. Two gold mines on the ranch have been reopened. Making the trip from the Uniwah (Quad-Cities) District are Richard Taylor, Richard Burch, Nicholas Tsigoloff, Bryant Snee, Dale Johnson, Darren Geisler, Kevin Harmon, Keith Sanders, Patrick Potter, Tom Sawyer, Bruce Gordon, and Mike Bilbrey will make up Crew Two under the leadership

Springfield bureau—Some aspects of 1974 legislative session proved to be disappointing; state spending is assuming gigantic proportions

It is extremely difficult logically to assess about the most illlogical session of the state legislature in recent history. At first study, the record looks to be dismal and dilatory.

But there are some progressive portents hidden away in a myriad of intra and interparty political battles that made the story of the 1974 General Assembly a preview of future political wars.

It must have been a frustrating experience for those not among the leadership clique. They had virtually no voice in the fate of legislation. The key decisions were made in the hustle and bustle of final hours by power brokers.

Gov. Daniel Walker exercised his leadership only in the waning hours — and then failed to stop a determined legislature from giving his prospective political opponent, Republican Atty. Gen. William Scott, some vehicles in which to test whether he has jurisdiction over all state lawyers, or whether the governor holds that power for his agencies.

The legislature also overruled Walker by allowing up-and-coming Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan, the governor's Democratic onetime running mate, to get second place on the new energy and coal development council.

To their credit, the lawmakers passed legislation requiring public officials to disclose campaign contributors and expenditures effective Oct. 1 for candidates for statewide office, the General Assembly and judgeships, and for local candidates beginning Jan. 1, 1975.

'Genie' is out of the bottle; atomic shadow is spreading far and wide

International concern over the consequences of furnishing additional nuclear technology and materials to the combatants in the Middle East was not helped by Iranian, Communist Chinese, and French atmospheric nuclear tests that coincided with the news of the announcement.

Communist China has built its nuclear research on a foundation of technology it received from others, making no real effort to conceal the fact that it is aiming primarily to broaden its military, not its peaceful atomic capability. The question which concerns many Americans now is whether the Middle East rivals will also put to military use the peaceful technology that the United States will furnish them.

The apprehensions are not new. Dangers as well as benefits of spreading nuclear technology also were the focus of national discussions when President Eisenhower offered Israel and the Arabs huge nuclear power and desalinization plants in 1953. Congress supported the President by voting into law the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 which opened the way for the United States to pursue its Atoms for Peace program.

That program has proliferated to say the least. Since 1954 the United States has developed more than 40 major technological nuclear exchanges with other countries, trained more than 3,000 persons from other nations in atomic principles, committed more than 100,000 kilograms of uranium-235 for civilian use abroad and has actually built some 15 nuclear power plants outside of the United States, including one in Israel. Numerous international organizations supported by the United States, the Soviet Union, Canada,

And they tried to pump life into home building and home buying by raising the usury rate from an unrealistic 8 per cent to a more reasonable 9 1/2 per cent for real estate purchases.

We are particularly pleased that the legislators failed to approve pay increases ranging up to 64 per cent for top agency officials of the state but we are disappointed that they approved pay raises of $100 for all state employees with no requirement for equity. They also failed, for good reason to give themselves a raise of $5,000-a-year.

We feel the lawmakers should have passed a resolution limiting the even-year sessions to consideration of the state budget and emergency matters.

For several months — yes months — the legislature did nothing. Most important legislation passed virtually in the 11th hour. That can, and often does, lead to bad bills being steamrolled through without the type of careful consideration we should be allowed to expect of deliberative bodies.

As a final insult, the legislature passed budget bills pushing state spending far over $8 billion for the first time in history — if Gov. Walker allows them to stand, which he won't. We find this reversal of the traditional Republican role of fiscal conservatism unacceptable. At least, we had hoped the legislators would hold the line below $8 billion. Surely, there was some fat somewhere that could have been trimmed.

France and England also are actively engaged in spreading nuclear knowledge and supplies. The device exploded by India on May 18, for example, was developed from plutonium furnished by Canada.

There is no question about the atomic genie being out of the bottle, or that the genie will grow as coal and oil supplies dwindle and as natural resources become scarce. What is done is done. We could not go backward, even if we chose to. In this regard, it is reassuring that there have been no known abuses of the Atoms for Peace programs, thanks to international cooperation and safeguards.

China and India, unfortunately, have exhibited no willingness to cooperate, and have shown no interest in such safeguards as non-testing and nonproliferation treaties. Both nations seek but prepare for war, and in the case of China, the preparations for nuclear conflict are quite well advanced.

Nobody can predict where peaceful atomic proliferation will lead, but it is not hard to draw a mental picture of a backward nation holding the world hostage with a atomic device that it has developed from its nuclear generating plants. We only have the limited assurance that so far our safety efforts have worked and the consequent hope that they will continue to work in the future.

A compensating factor for our fears, if there is one, is the hope that because of the atom's awesome consequences — its doomsday qualities — even the most rabid nation will have the prudence to refrain from using it in anger.

Illinois trauma centers are model for nation

SPRINGFIELD — The brand-new Illinois trauma program, begun in 1971, for all practical purposes has finished its first stage of growth and will now turn to internal development. Still uncertain is just how the program will be financed, as increasing numbers of the designated trauma centers reach the mandatory three-year cut-off point for federal funds.

Join Nance, field operations director in the office of Emergency Medical Services for the Illinois Department of Public Health, said that the original federal grant, started in 71, was for $1 million to initiate the program, with the provision that any center would receive federal money only for the first three years.

Presently, Illinois has 50 hospitals designated trauma centers, and roughly half of these still have funding to go, while most of the remaining half will see their three years conclude during the end of the quarters of fiscal '75. Seven centers will fall back on state support alone this year, and the department has budgeted $94 for these, he said.

Since the original grant in '71, as programs were developed and equipment purchase needs diminished (and taking growing inflation into account), Nance said the program needs have altered and the project is now expected to require about $985,000 in state funds, by 1978, to operate in its present form.

Presently, there are 37 coordinators serving the 50 designated centers, as well as seven regional emergency medical service coordinators, and six nurses with varying titles working in regional centers.

The discrepancy in numbers of centers and numbers of coordinators arises from some coordinators serving more than one hospital, and from several Chicago and Cook County hospitals being designated as trauma centers primarily to obtain radio equipment to tie in with other centers. Coordinators were not needed at these facilities, he said.

The regional center at Carbondale, Nance said, handles coordination for Pinckneyville and Cairo, as well, while Champaign's center looks after Paris and Macon's center also provides service for the Canton center. Of the 17 Cook County hospitals designated as trauma centers, only 10 have coordinators.

Some hospitals did not even need communications equipment, Nance said, and joined the program chiefly to participate in an equipment exchange program. In this plan a patient might be administered oxygen, for instance, when picked up by ambulance, and would retain the same oxygen mask when he arrives at the trauma center. The ambulance crew would merely pick up another mask in exchange from the hospital. The ambulance is thereby resupplied, the patient is only billed for one mask, and it was not necessary to remove one mask and fit another to a critically ill or injured patient. This system is also used for such items as backboards, and even for linens, Nance said.

The seven regional emergency medical services coordinators function as "go-betweens" between the Public Health department and the regional facilities, he said, while the six nurses, stationed at Carbondale, Springfield, Champaign, Peoria, and two in Cook County, function primarily as "educational people." The nurses set up and conduct training programs for other nurses and for lay persons in various aspects of trauma nursing, such as pediatric, burn, and trauma, and the proper preparation of patients for transport either by ground or by helicopter. More than 300 trauma nurse specialists have received such training, so far, he said, and more than 2,000 hours of specialized training have been delivered in the form of seminars conducted by the nurses.

Alarm was sounded recently when it was revealed that the Public Health Department was requesting only $94,000 for the trauma program for next year, instead of $250,000, which one source said was necessary.

Gov. Daniel Walker subsequently announced that the program, set up under his predecessor, Richard Ogilvie, was not to be curtailed, and no coordinators would be eliminated. Instead, he said, discussions are centering on methods of future financing, including the possibility of using the general revenue, federal grants, local funding or medical insurance reimbursements directly to hospitals.

Nance said the office of Dr. David Boyd, who heads the program, was "greatly cheered" by the governor's announcement that no coordinators would be terminated.

The Illinois Trauma Program, unique in the nation, has been the subject of numerous national television studies, has served as a model for programs in North Carolina, South Carolina and California, and is currently being studied by specialists from Washington on behalf of the 49 states and territories included in, or bordering on, Appalachia. A recent colloquium in Chicago was attended by 60 persons representing 43 states interested in some variation of the Illinois plan. Dr. Boyd has also gone to Germany and Holland to discuss the program with leaders there.

An Aurora center just recently designated will probably be the last center to be named in the program. Nance said, since the project has now been carried to a point where any person anywhere in Illinois who is injured or stricken ill, should not have to travel more than 25 miles to see a doctor in the trauma program, who can either initiate treatment or see the victim on his way to the closest, most appropriate source of aid.

To function best, Nance said, the program needs to continue at least a couple of more years. After that, when training programs had been well established, it might be possible to reduce the number of administrative personnel.

Announcement was made by Professor W. F. Coolidge that the Board of Education had decided to give girl students of Community High School the same advantages as boys students in the athletic programs. Miss Maurine Gird of Centennial has been hired, starting with the fall semester, as instructor of gymnasium and physical training and outdoor athletics.

World population still 'exploding'

THE POPULATION PROBLEM: by Stanley Johnson; Haldsted Press; 218 pages; $9.95.

POPULATION, POLITICS & THE FUTURE OF SOUTHERN ASIA: by W. Howard Wriggins and James F. Guyot; Editors; Columbia University Press; 358 pages; $8.50 hardcover; $2.95 paperback.

consultant, has delivered a book that is concise as well as comprehensive. It is very likely that this volume will be one of the most widely consulted in the coming years because it is so effective at boiling down the issues and possible solutions.

Meanwhile, one of the most severe problem points in the world population picture is South and Southeast Asia. This teeming section of the Asian continent encompasses more than one billion people, about one-fourth of humanity. The dozen states of the area range in size from India with over 500 million and Indonesia with 125 million to the island city of Singapore with two million inhabitants.

From these staggering statistics, authors Wriggins and Guyot proceed to narrate and introduce articles by other experts on the geographic cocktail of the world's population problem.

Besides basic demographics, the areas of focus are urbanization and the extermination of trends among youth in the area.

This latter approach is very significant because the majorities in each of the South Asian nations are now under 20 years of age.

Attitudes of young people toward their governments, themselves and the world will be important politically as well as economically and socially.

Unfortunately, the book is long on delineation of the problem but short on answers.

There are, of course, no simple answers to the population question. But it would seem that more emphasis should be placed on attempting some model solutions on a trial-and-error basis.

Some Asian nations, notably China, Taiwan, Japan and Korea, are experimenting with programs to curb population growth.

The authors of this book — might find a wider readership by coming out flatly admitting the need to get off its haunches and begin a more enthusiastic and comprehensive management of its population crisis.

Summer enrichment classes praised

To the Editor:
I would like to comment on the Summer Enrichment Program which was presented at Niedringhaus School for the past seven weeks.

The children enjoyed the program immensely and were very enthusiastic about studying and learning subjects not offered during the regular school year.

The one thing most children liked best was the casual and relaxed atmosphere in which they were allowed more freedom of self-expression.

For the children and teachers alike, I found the Summer Enrichment to have been most rewarding.

Although this is the first time this type of program has been offered to students in grades 1 through 3, and time to develop the program was very short, I feel that Alan Crider, program director, his staff and all the teachers did an excellent job of creating and presenting the program to the children.

Although this enrichment program was well presented, some areas need improvement and refining. I hope to see this program continue in the years to come.

This program would not have been accomplished if not for the combined efforts of Mr. Crider, his staff and the teachers. They all deserve credit for a job well done, in the short period of time available to get it all together.

B. J. Davis, superintendent of schools, and the Board of Education are to be congratulated for their cooperation and interest shown in this new project.

The parents of the 325 children enrolled should also be recognized as largely responsible for the success of this program.

Without their efforts each day to bring their children from all over the Granite City area to this one, specially-shaded school, the program would not have been feasible.

Those parents should be congratulated for their interest, cooperation and effort for helping these children share in this new summer program.

I hope that this new experience is a sign of better things to come for all of our children. This can be accomplished by active parents in the educational process of our most precious asset, our children.

Trade secrets need to be protected

To the Editor:
Regarding H.B. 2220, Environmental Protection Act — "Confidentiality of Trade Secrets" — in behalf of our 5,400 manufacturing firms in Illinois we strongly urge that Governor Walker approve H.B. 2220, a bill of paramount importance to industry, both large and small.

This measure, which would provide for the safeguarding of trade secret information by the Illinois environmental authorities (Environmental Protection Agency, Pollution Control Board and Institute for Environmental Quality), received strong bipartisan support in the legislature, passing the House 126 to 1 and the Senate 45 to 9.

Industry is required to submit detailed information regarding plant processes to the Environmental Protection Agency. Some of the information is extremely valuable and, consequently, highly confidential.

Its unauthorized disclosure to competitors by state employees, could jeopardize the continued operation of plants and threaten jobs.

Existing Illinois statutory law and regulations are inadequate to cope with this threat.

Many other industrial states presently have comprehensive trade secret protection laws, including Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, California and Pennsylvania.

In addition, numerous Illinois Acts specifically recognize the need to protect confidential information.

For example, An Act in Relation to a System of Unemployment Compensation Act, 48-300 et seq. 640 provides: "Any officer or employee of the state who, except with authority of the director purports to disclose to any person the contents of a Class B misdemeanor, and shall thereafter be disqualified from holding any appointment or employment by the state."

Perhaps the most important reason to commend enactment of H.B. 2220 is the fact that industry presently has no confidence that its trade secrets are safe in the hands of the Illinois environmental authorities. This is a serious deterrent to industrial location and expansion with the state which can be remedied.

Leroy Anderson to conduct here

Walter Susskind will return from Australia for the fourth weekend of concerts at the Mississippi River Festival to conduct the 8:30 p.m. Saturday program, featuring pianist Eugene Istomin.

Conductor-composer Leroy Anderson is on the podium for Sunday's MRP concert at SUTS. Works to be performed Saturday, Aug. 3, include Beethoven's Leonora Overture No. 3; Chopin's Piano Concerto No. 2 featuring Istomin; and Orchestral Highlights from "Der Ring des Nibelungen" by Wagner.

Susskind has just returned from an extensive Australian tour during which he conducted orchestras in Melbourne, Sydney, Brisbane, Adelaide and Perth, Australia, and Hobart, Tasmania.

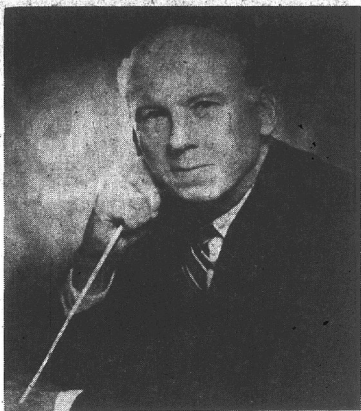

Conductor-composer Leroy Anderson, born in Cambridge, Mass., in 1908, was educated at Harvard.

While orchestrator and arranger for the Boston Pops Orchestra, Anderson wrote "Jazz Picnic," which established his independent style. He wrote "Promenade" and "The Syncopated Clock" while in Washington during World War II.

"The Typewriter," one of his best-known compositions, uses an actual typewriter, which must be an old one, he says, to get sufficient noise. He considers his music an answer to a need for lighter, more modern concert music.

For the Aug. 4 River Festival program, he will perform many of his compositions, including Belle of the Ball, Plink Plank Plunk, Bugler's Holiday, The Syncopated Clock and Serenade.

He will also conduct the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra in Berlioz' "Rakoczy" March from the "Damnation of Faust," Rossini's Overture to "Semiramide," Two Hungarian Dances, No. 5 and No. 6, by Brahms, and his own arrangement of Jerome Kern's Selections from "Showboat." The Sunday concert begins at 7:30 p.m.

Check symbols important to rapid bank clearance

Those boxy little numbers at the bottom of your checks go a long way toward helping the nation's bank process more than 25 billion checks each year.

These numbers are the key to the country's MICR (Magnetic Ink Character Recognition) system, according to Earl Dotzauer, vice-president and director of the First Granite City National Bank and president of the Southwestern Illinois Chapter of Bank Administration Institute.

Few people outside the banking industry, however, know just what the numbers mean (although you may recognize one as your checking account number), or just how the whole numerical series, at the bottom of a check speak up and simplifies clearance and handling procedures, Dotzauer said.

The numbers, according to Dotzauer, are printed with ink containing iron oxide, which is magnetized and sensed by electronic devices at Federal Reserve Banks and other banks functioning as check clearing houses.

MICR coding on a check that has been processed through the banking system typically consists of three groups of numbers. Left to right on a check, these groups are classified as follows:

The Transit Field, which identifies the Federal Reserve District and office, payment terms (immediate or deferred), and local bank upon which the check is drawn;

The On-Us Field in the middle, which contains the account number and possibly the check number;

The Amount Field to the right, where the check amount is printed during processing.

The Transit and On-Us fields were printed on your checks by the check printer; the Amount Field is printed by the bank in which the check is deposited.

"MICR speeds the complicated check processing work for the nation's banks," according to Dotzauer, "crediting and charging accounts as quickly as mail reaches the clearing house."

Bank Administration Institute, headquartered in Park Ridge, Ill., publishes documents printed in magnetic ink which serve as standards for calibrating the electronic equipment used by local banks and Federal Reserve Banks. BAI also serves as an electronic test lab, helping banks, corporations, and check printers determine what's wrong with their MICR printing when a machine rejects one of their checks, Dotzauer explained.

Processing checks is a big job for U.S. banks when you consider that 75 million checks are written each day!

Distributing telephone directories

Granite City area residents should be receiving their new telephone directories in the next several weeks.

"In an effort to conserve the nation's paper supply, we are reducing the number of directories we will be distributing to our residence customers," Tom Rich, local manager for Southwestern Bell, said.

"Normally we leave one telephone book for each residence telephone. However, since some of our customers have told us they receive more directories than they really need, we have changed our distribution formula," he asked.

Rich said that all residential customers will receive an insert with their 1974 directories explaining more about the new distribution procedure.

GRANTMASTER TIRE GUARANTEE

1. Tread Life Guarantee Against Road Hazards: The guarantee of Grantmaster tires against hazards from all normal road hazards on the top of the tread with the exception of ordinary road potholes, pits, blow-outs and road construction, under-inflation, over-inflation and driving fast.
2. Tread Life Guarantee Against Defects: We guarantee the Grantmaster tire against all defects of material and workmanship, for the life of the tread.
3. Base of Adjustment: Should your Grantmaster tire require adjustment under Section 1 or 2 of the Guarantee, please return it to Grants and we will replace it by giving you a proportionate allowance for the original price, based on the current selling price, including Federal Excise Tax.
4. Guaranteed Against Tread Wear: The original tread is guaranteed and to wear out for the life of the tire. If the tread wears out during this period the tire should be returned to Grants and we will replace it, charging the current regular selling price plus Federal Excise Tax less the following percentage allowance toward the purchase of a new tire:
Tire Guarantee: 10-27 Months 25%
28-40 Months 20%
The guarantee covers tires in exchange for service only. *Exchanger car has used or commercial service reduces the guarantee period by 50%.
